FOUR O'CLOCK A. M.

SENATOR SHERMAN.

IMMENSE MEETING AT CITY HALL!

THE REPUBLICAN WATCH FIRES BURNING BRIGHTLY.

Full Report of the Speech of the Evening.

REMARKS BY HONS. THOMAS M. MARSHALL AND GEO. V. LAWRENCE.

Hon. John Sherman, the gifted son of Ohio, arrived in the city on Sunday afternoon and put up at the Monongahela House. He was called upon during Sunday and Monday by distinguished citizens of both parties, who were anxious to receive his views on the questions which enter the canvass. At seven o'clock last evening the Second Ward Club, numbering some one hundred members, and the Central Tanner Club, of the same strength, proceeded to the Monongahela House with a band of music, as a guard of honor, to escort the orator of the evening to the Republican Headquarters, City Hall, where a mass meeting was arranged to be held. Mr. Sherman, in an open carriage, and accompanied by Hon. J. K. Moorhead, Hon. S. A. Purviance, and Hon. John Alison, was the observed of all observers, as the procession moved through the streets, and greeted on all sides with enthusiastic outbursts from the masses lining the pavements.

Arriving at City Hall it was difficult for the clubs to force their way through the streets gorged with hundreds of men who were unable to gain admission into the commodious hall wherein fully six thousand persons had assembled. Although several large meetings have been held in the present campaign by the Republicans of the county, still never in the history of local politics has such a monster meeting been drawn together in Western Pennsylvania. Nor was the number in attendance more remarkable than the wild enthusiasm which prevailed. The attendance and spirit manifested went to show that the people have been fully aroused to the importance of the campaign, and that the pledge given in her behalf at the Chicago Convention will be more than redeemed in October and November.

The meeting was called to order by Hon. J. P. Penney taking the chair, on motion of Col. J. H. Stewart.

REMARKS OF MR. PENNEY.

Mr. Penney, on taking the chair, said:

FELLOW-CITIZENS—Allow me to return my sincere thanks for this high compliment in being called upon to preside over so large an assemblage of the Union Republicans of the county of Allegheny. I feel deeply honored for very many reasons, among which let me specify, first, for the noble cause which engages the interest of us all; honored because it comes from the great Union party, and because of the flag of our country which that party is now arrayed to defend. I feel proud in the memory of having been myself the bearer of the first flag given to the sunlight in old Allegheny, inscribed, "Free Soil, Free Speech and Free Men"—I feel proud of the party which in 1860 elected the Rail Splitter of Illinois. I am proud of it now when the same banner, crowned with all its laurels of victory, has gathered together its wise men under its folds to consult upon the highest and most enduring interests of the Republic. I am proud to confess that these men have been faithful and that they have made a civil record equally deserving of our admiration with their military triumphs—I am proud of it because it stands up yet and presents the name of Grant as its great leader; because it countenances no distinction of class in the civil rights to be conceded to all; because it elevates the dignity of labor; because it receives the tanner's boy and the printer as candidates for its highest honors, and goes once more to victory under a leadership that never yet knew defeat. I have now to present to you the suggestions of your Executive Committee for the further organization of this meeting.

Col. John H. Stewart then nominated additional officers as follows:

Vice Presidents.

Wm. M. Lyon,	George Black,
M. Swartzwelder,	Charles Beerman,
James I. Kuhn, Esq,	Joseph Abel,
Campbell B Herron,	B. F. Jones,
Joseph Hartman,	David Lewis,
Thomas J. Craig.	John E. Jones,
Thomas M. Marshall,	John Harrison,
C. G. Hussey,	John Brown,
Hon. Thos. M. Howe,	Col. D. L. Smith,
Jos. S. Morrison, Esq,	Alfred Slack,
Col. R. B. Roberts,	John Megraw,
Nathan Brookaw,	Lieut. James Wells,
Charles Wood,	Robt. Carson,
J. J Siebeneck, Esq,	Samuel Kay,
John Seiferth,	S. S. D. Thompson,
Samuel Gallinger,	H. F. Eggers,
Samuel Walker.	Julius Scharnke.

Secretaries.

R. B. Parkinson, Esq,	Earle S. Gardner,
Thomas Kerr,	Dr. J. H. Roberts,
James M. Murray,	John W. Hay,
Fred. Meizgar.	J. F. Starke.

These nominations were unanimously agreed to, and the officers then ascended the platform. With them also entered Mr. Sherman, whom the presiding officer then introduced, in a few felicitous remarks, as the expected orator of the evening. The enthusiasm of the audience, in receiving the distinguished Senator from Ohio surpassed anything we have ever before witnessed on any similar occasion. After cheers, three times three, in which every man took part, three cheers for "Hon. John Sherman" were again called for and given even more loudly than before. This scene of excitement was protracted for some moments, but silence being at last obtained, Senator Sherman said:

MY FELLOW CITIZENS,: I have accepted the invitation of your State Committee to take part for a few days in the canvass now going on in your Commonwealth, not in the hope that my opinions may exert any influence in shaping those of your own people, but, rather, that by coming here and mingling among your citizens in the various portions of your State, I might find out how the citizens of Pennsylvania propose to vote next October. I am happy to be able to state to you that so far as Ohio is concerned, she has already settled the result of this canvass. [Long continued cheers.] Perhaps there may have been some of you who have felt a lingering doubt as to the way that Ohio would cast her vote, but it gives me pleasure to know, and to assure you also, as the consenting opinion of well informed citizens of both parties in my State, that in November Ohio will cheer all hearts by her overwhelming majority for Gen. Grant. It is to you, therefore, that we now look; to Pennsylvania, the Keystone State, the centre of the Union to-day, as she had been the centre of the old thirteen Colonies, to know how she, too, is to pronounce upon the great issues before the nation. Your State contains now a population greater than all those Colonies had at the era of the Revolution. Your State, from its central position, has a vast national influence; it is not easily moved by questions of a local or a sectional character; her action upon national issues has usually been conclusive. As she goes, so goes the United States.

I come to ascertain from you whether the Star Spangled Banner shall be entrusted to the hands of Grant, Colfax and a loyal submission to the laws, or to Seymour, Blair and the re-inspired rebel element which we have once beaten down. ("Never! never!") Ohio leans on her elder and more powerful sister State of Pennsylvania and appeals to her to take now, decisively and permanently, her true place at the head of the loyal sisterhood of States and pronounce her sincere preferences for Grant and Peace. (Applause.)

I wish now to allude to a most peculiar and strange element of this canvass—the surprising, matchless impudence of the Democratic party in making at this time and in this manner any contest at all. Eight years ago, they threatened us with war, and they made the threats good in a rebellion that cost us four hundred thousand lives and more than four billions of dollars. Now, when the war has been ended by your valor, and slavery is dead, they say "Let by-gones be by-gones." Thank God! It is so; by-gones are by-gones, but nevertheless, nations, like individuality, recognize the teachings of experience, and our people are not again to be misled as they have been before. Time was, when a party took up the cause of the enemies of our country and failed to secure its triumph, that they went under in disgrace and were no more heard of. The Tories of the Revolution joined themselves to the cause of George III.; when that failed, they disappeared, certainly they ran no candidate against Washington for the Presidency. So, in 1812, a misguided and unfaithful party was found sympathizing with the public enemy, and in due time that party, the Federalists, yielded to the popular sentiment and disappeared from the view of men. So, in the Mexican war, there were found some citizens who opposed that conflict with the neighboring nation; yet, when the war came, most of our people went in for its support, while the few who did not take up the cause of the country speedily disappeared from the public sight. My fellow-citizens, it is an axiom of American opinion, clearly settled by many precedents, that a party, that any and everybody who oppose themselves to a national war, risk thereby their own political existence, certainly all their political influence, forfeiting it forever in the event of the failure of their friends.

Now, did the Democratic party themselves wage, or did they even threaten, our late war of rebellion? If they were not the guilty participants, or instigators, who were? I know, and so do you, that at least all the Southern Democracy were guilty of this. I know, and gratefully bear this testimony, that tens of thousands of honest and patriotic Democrats went for their country before party, upheld the flag of the Republic in the ranks of the Union, and are members of the great Union party to-day. But other hundreds of thousands did not follow their example. Instead, they sympathized with and, had they dared, would have aided the enemies of the Republic. Why, in Ohio, they even nominated as their candidate for Governor that man Vallandigham, although for his flagrant disloyalty he had been sent bodily out of the loyal territory. So, at Chicago, in '64, when the national fortunes, even its very life, hung in suspense while the terrible contest went on, while Grant was almost hidden from loyal eyes in the midst of his dead heroes, while Sherman had disappeared beyond the mountains of Georgia, in the outstart of his march down to the sea, while gallant Phil Sheridan was laboring in the valleys of Virginia to organize means for the protection of your own Pennsylvania from rebel invasion, while the brave Farragut was tied to his mast-head at Mobile—where was the Democratic party then? Let me tell you. It was then that they raised the white flag of surrender, at Chicago, and demanded that peace should be made, because the war was a failure. Then and there, presided over in their Convention by Horatio Seymour, they proposed to abandon the integrity of the Union! Suppose that they had succeeded! These are unhappy things for any of us to look back upon. We will gratify their wish to let by-gones be by-gones, if they will show barely a decent respect for the opinions of mankind, disband their treasonable organizations and disappear from the sight of the world. For that Democratic party, in the hour of danger of the Republic, deserted the cause of their country, and never, never can wipe out that stain. But no, that same Democratic party, the same leaders, the same Seymour, reinforced by the rebels whom we fought, now ask you to entrust them with the political power of the nation. Never was greater impudence known out of hell. I may well denounce it as Satanic, for it is impudence equal to that shown by that old Democrat himself when he strove to rise again and snatch at the lost cause from his perpetual purgatory. (Tremendous applause.)

Let me point you to another fact. The wiser leaders of the Democracy had at last come to know that, to be again successful, they must change everything, candidates, principles, even their very skin. They wished to make this change at New York—to inaugurate new questions, new issues and new men to carry them. If the lead had been given to these wiser heads, the result would have been far better for them, the party and perhaps for the country. But no! these more prudent counsels were overruled by the rebel heart of the Democracy, instigated by such men as Vallandigham and Hampton. The wiser ones foresaw that they were thus to be led to an inevitable death; but the combination of Copperheads and rebels, too strong for them, insisted upon the old issues; the party yielded to their pertinacity, and now, for its punishment, is about to be consigned to its final resting place.

Let us see how the case stood. That New York Convention was a curious mixture of white, blue, gray and some black. (A voice, "Williams.") They wanted a new candidate. There was my old friend, Mr. Pendleton, an accomplished gentlemen, with his new way to pay old debts, his remarkable greenback theory. But he stood no chance whatever, not even more than myself, and they laid him on the shelf. Who next? There was a gallant soldier of your own State, General Hancock, with a good war record, Conservative in his ideas, but Democratic in his tendencies. He was proposed as a candidate; but, poor man, he did not stand even half as much a chance as mine, for I was the friend of at least some of the candidates, while he was the friend of none. Then there was a very plausible gentleman from Indiana, so smooth and plausible that butter would melt at the sight of him; a gentleman who could climb a greased pole without difficulty; an artist in soft and flowery speeches, the accomplished and adroit Hendricks. But he would not do; he had never opposed Unionism enough; he had, somehow, some time or other, somewhere said or done something that looked as if he were favorable to the Union at heart, and he, too, was shelved. Then said the wise men, "We must have a new man entirely." They wanted to bring up Chief Justice Chase. And he was willing enough, indeed he was anxious for it; he wanted it badly; but the Democracy had no thought of him whatever. His selection would have shown too much of statesmanship and the people would have been tempted to forget that this was the old Democratic party, and so his strength, at its highest point in the Convenion, reached, if I am not mistaken, exactly three and a quarter votes. And so, through all devious and winding ways, this Convention went about in search of a candidate until they found Horatio Seymour, the hero of the New York riots, the "friend" of the rioters and murderers, a man who never felt a patriotic sentiment or did a patriotic deed, and him they nominated.

Then a Vice President was to be selected. This people, from sad experience, have learned to look sharply at this part of their tickets, and do not want to be cheated. Well, certain soldiers and sailors, more than a hundred of whom were rebels, had organized an outside Convention in the same city, and they nominated a soldier, Gen. Thomas Ewing, Jr. What did the Convention do when entreated to accept the nomination? They would not agree to it or give him a single vote. They nominated Frank Blair. When I speak of this gentleman I cannot but see him in a double light. Time was that I knew him in Congress and out of it as the fiercest of "Black Republicans"—no man more violent than he in devotion to Republican principles. His family had quarreled with the Democracy, while he himself, a brave soldier, had done good service for the country, for all of which nevertheless he has become that country's most dangerous enemy. Becoming involved in a quarrel with some Missouri politicians, and being a man who loves or hates with equal intensity, he carried that quarrel into his politics at once. Having strong passions but no prudence, sagacity or discretion, no people can ever safely confide to him high trusts. A few days previous to the Convention, he announced himself, in his Brobhead letter, as a candidate for either place on the ticket. The sentiments of that letter were most atrocious, although he truly declared that there was no real question except that of reconstruction. He talks of compelling the army to undo the work of Congress. I would like to see him try to make Grant and Sherman do that. (Great applause.) That letter touched the Democratic heart and secured his nomination.

What next? The platform was then in order. It was elaborated by a committee of one member from each State. Every resolution in that platform reiterates some mere axiom of American politics. All such compositions are mere cheats. The great body of this one enunciates general truths, much the same with what may be found in the Republican platform. For example, look at the declaration in which both parties are agreed, that the question of suffrage must be left to the people in each State for themselves. When that was put in by the Democrats, Wade Hampton—who stands infamous before the world as the murderer of thousands of our soldiers, a character cruel and merciless beyond expression, sparing neither the sick nor wounded from his butchery—stood up to say that "this was all very well, but what do you mean by States? Do you mean the States as now reconstructed or as they were in 1865? All I want is that you should say, as they were in 1865." The leaders squirmed at that; they said, "anything you desire shall be done, but please consider that we are going to have a hard fight of it; if we fix it as you say, the Republicans will hurt us." Then Hampton asked to insert "three words," that "we declare all the acts of reconstruction to be unconstitutional, usurpatory and void." They agreed to that, that phrase of Hampton's appears literally in the platform of the Democracy and in those "three words" lies buried the whole essence of this contest.

Thus I have touched upon the history of the platform and the candidates of the Democracy. The rebels made both. No Northern man had any hand in Blair's nomination; Preston first named him, Forrest and Hampton seconded him. These candidates and this platform are before you, honest Democrats, for your decision. Will you take them or will you adhere to the Union and follow Gen. Grant?

Now as to this matter of Reconstruction. What does it all mean? Is it the terrible bugaboo that Democratic leaders would have you believe? I can explain it to you. Its entire plan is here in my hands, embodied in the XIIIth and XIVth Amendments to the Constitution, All the laws known as the Reconstruction Acts are simply enactments to carry them out. I myself reported the first Act of March 2d, 1867, which, being temporary in its nature, has been now displaced by the XIVth Article. Not a clause of these acts remains in force this day. All of them have answered the purpose for which they were passed and they are now out of sight, discharged from operation. The XIIIth Article forever prohibits Human Slavery; as such all the States adopted it, but I say to you that if the acts of Reconstruction were swept away, all would fall to the ground. So of the fourteenth article. (The speaker quoted that article, section by section, briefly elucidating its provisions.) Now mark, my friends, that this amendment was submitted to all the States. All the people had a chance to vote upon it, in their State or Congressional elections or both. What was the result? All the Northern States, including even New Jersey, voted to ratify it, and, but for Andrew Johnson, who, in his hatred of the Republicans, used his Executive influence to defeat it, the Southern States would have done the same. But as they thus failed, we went to work to secure success, and to that end proceeded to reorganize those States, so that seven of them voted for it, and the XIVth Amendment is now the law of this land. Yet, if you elect the Democratic ticket, you agree to their doctrine, and all you have of Southern reconstruction would be swept away. This is indeed the only real question.

How does the South feel in this matter? According to Blair the only question is: "Shall those States as now organized be overthrown by armed and revolutionary force and be given up to the old sway of the rebels?" What is the true state of affairs at the South? Are the people in the proper condition, socially or politically, to use this power if surrendered to them? A great diversity of opinion exists on this point; the facts are very differently represented. But, nevertheless, the testimony is too clearly one way to be disputed. The most recent evidence we have comes from Tennessee. (The speaker then read from the recent report of a Legislative Committee of that State, appointed to investigate cases of violent and murderous resistance to the laws. He also quoted declarations of Pirate Semmes, as to the new birth of the Democracy and how he fought the war on Democratic principles. He also quoted prominent Southern speakers and journals as to the effect of a Democratic triumph now upon the Reconstruction policy. He proceeded:) High Southern authority warns Mr. Seymour that there is to be no paring and smoothing off of corners, that the party now stand squarely committed as Hampton fixed it and that if he dares to hesitate, he may find his Booth, as Lincoln did. In the face of such desperate intentions, neither one life nor a thousand lives would have any protection whatever, or be suffered to stand in the way of the fulfillment of the rebel aims.

The speaker then quoted the declarations of Vance, Wise, Lawton, Battle, the Richmond Dispatch, and other journals and speakers, touching the bearings of this election.

The speaker proceeded to say that the Democracy are in earnest, and so sure and certain as Seymour and Blair are elected civil war will be inaugurated. Here let me read to you the testimony gathered from negroes in the South, relative to operations of the Ku-Klux-Klans, and I trust no man present is mean enough to disbelieve it because a black man tells it. The speaker read various extracts of testimony relating to outrages perpetrated on harmless people living in the South by the bands of young men who compose the awful Ku-Klux organization. The case of Lewis Powell of the Fourth District of Tennessee was cited. He testified that one night a masquerading party visited his house and asked for something to eat. His wife set about to prepare a meal whereupon, after accusing her of being in sympathy with the Union League, they fired two shots through her heart. The husband called for assistance, but the neighbors, trembling through fear of the Ku-Klux, refused to interfere. The fault of Powell had been that he once wore the army blue. Richard Moore, of Lincoln county, Tennessee, testified that he was met by a party of Ku Klux, knocked down, pistols taken from him and then he was subjected to one hundred and seventy-five lashes on his bare back. His offense had been that he once wore the army blue. This, said the speaker, gives but a faint idea of the outrageous conduct of these bands of young men who no doubt number nearly four hundred thousand, and and go about committing all sorts of gross wrongs. G. T. Brales, of Connersville, a white teacher, gives his testimony to the effect that a gang of Ku-Klux men visited that place and after committing a number of outrages, proceeded to the school house of the village and toppled over the steeple and bell tower, for they don't like churches and schools. This is the kind of outrages and the condition of affairs in all the Southern States. Every district has its organized secret band parading the country visiting outrages on the people, murdering helpless negroes, burning churches and leveling school houses. If Seymour and Blair are elected what will be the result? Why every Northern man in the South will be driven out, their wives and children will be made refugees and their property confiscated. Four hundred millions of negroes will be reduced to slavery again or to a terrible subjugation. The entire country will be in a state of anarchy. If Grant and Colfax are elected the States will be reconstructed under the laws provided, and all the guarantees required will be gained and peace and order will be restored to all parts and the people of Pittsburgh as well as everywhere will go on undisturbed with their industrial pursuits.

The speaker continued: The cry of distress has been heard from Horatio Seymour over his nomination. A letter from him, which I first saw in this morning's Pittsburgh papers, is well enough for you to notice. He says: "I am gratified with the kindness of friends, but they have plunged me into trouble. I do not know how the canvass will go on, but now that I am in the fight I shall do the best I can. I see the Republicans are trying to dodge the financial issues. Our papers must not allow this; they must push the debt and taxation upon public attention." This was his despairing cry. Push the taxation and debt upon the people. Well, my friends we don't avoid those issues. We are prepared to meet any question they may present. The Republican party has presented within the past few years great financial questions. When the war was first waged our treasury was empty, and ways and means to carry on the war had to be secured. We devised the best currency system a people ever had in the greenbacks. We all remember when the Democrats said that they were worth nothing and that they would soon be obtained by the bushel for the carrying away. We levied a just system of taxation, placed duties on imported goods to protect home industries, and thus did a good thing in doubling the productive interests of the country. Mines were opened and operated, mills built and worked, ten thousand miles of railroads were laid, telegraphs constructed and an impetus given to all trade. There was discovered here in Pennsylvania a source of wealth in Petroleum to supply the place of cotton and to provide for an exchange. In every way we have made rapid progress in the development of the country. Let me ask who created our great national debt? It was the Democratic party. If we had evenhanded justice to-day as there will be on Judgment day, this will be the verdict. Democratic speakers will tell you that the hat on your head, your vest, your pants, your coat, aye! your coffin and shroud, is taxed by the Republican party; and I expect they will say that a tax-gatherer will be sent after your soul on its winged flight to the realms of bliss to secure a tax. Now, my friends, not a single article named is taxed, for every tax on the farmer, and manufacturer, or the industries of the land—excepting whisky—has been repealed. No, when Seymour appeals to have us talk about taxes, I will tell him that we were compelled in the early part of the war to tax everything from necessity, but we have been repealing these taxes since the close of the war, and to-day everything which we eat and wear, excepting that which is imported, is free. On whom do the taxes fall? We have placed taxes on all luxuries, on coffee and sugar, and spices, and from this source derive an annual income of one hundred and sixty millions of dollars. These taxes fall so lightly as to be hardly noticed by the laboring classes, but all the rest of the taxes fall on the better classes, those who wear expensive broad cloths, and our ladies, God bless them, pay taxes on the silks and satins they wear. People who drink champagne pay taxes, and all those who deal in luxuries. Next is the Income tax. Do the laboring men pay that tax? I have heard of one Democratic speaker who told his audience that his wife could not make a pound of butter, or his mother pick a goose, but there would be a tax gatherer about after his dues. No tax falls on labor, unless where the income exceeds one thousand dollars. Not a laborer in Pittsburgh, nor a farmer, unless he is a rich one, pays a tax on income. From this source of taxation the Government derives thirty-six millions per year. Then the Stamp tax. It is paid by merchants, and bankers and brokers, and heavy dealers generally, whose transactions are large. New York city alone pays nearly one-fourth of this entire tax, on heavy bonds, checks, deeds, drafts, etc. The License tax is paid by certain professional classes and yields twenty millions per year. On manufacturers there is no tax, excepting where the sales exceed five thousand dollars per year, and how does this tax affect the laborer? I have calculated that a coat for which ten dollars is paid bears a tax of just two cents. The taxes on sales are on capital not on labor, for labor is protected throughout in our system of taxation. What other taxes have we? On gold watches, on carriages above a certain value, on piano fortes, and plate, and with the exception of these enumerated, there are none others. The whole system is so arranged as to fall only on the right persons—only on capital.

What financial issues have the opposition presented? They talk much about the National Banking System, but did they condemn the National Banks in their New York platform? They said not a word about them. What did they say in their platform about greenbacks? They shelved Pendleton, of Ohio, with his platform. They say they will pay the obligations of the United States, where it was expressly so stipulated, in coin. That is right. Then they say they will pay those payable in greenbacks, in such money. That is also right; but did they say how the 5-20's are to be paid, whether in coin or greenbacks? They did not. From their plank of equal taxation of every species of property we dissent—it is not ours. They would put the poor man's plow, the farmer's harrow, the mechanic's tools under taxation. Here we take issue. We would not tax any of these articles. We say it is wrong to do so. No tax ought ever to rest on labor or the production of labor. I will agree, if there is any Democratic laborer present who will promise faithfully to pay taxes on the whisky he drinks and the tobacco he chews and smokes, to give him a forever quit claim of the United States.

So far as attempts have been made to tax Government securities, the speaker said it never has been and never can be done. Under the form of our Government the power of Congress to borrow money is supreme and no State can interfere or tax a Government security. If they had the power to do so they could destroy the power of the Government. Indeed no State was ever mean enough to attempt it until the Democratic Convention proposed it. We have had national debts hanging over our Government since the earliest periods of its existence, and no party has ever attempted such a thing. Why don't the Democrats try it? Have they not New Jersey and Delaware, and, the speaker was mortified to say, Ohio, wherein to make the experiment? In Ohio, last fall, the Democratic majority in the Legislature talked long and loud about taxing Government securities, but they did not do it. The could'nt if they would, and would'nt if they could. They can never do it. But they say why don't the United States tax these securities? We do tax them the same as all other capital. A man who owns bonds and derives revenue from them must pay the taxes thereon. The Democrats are only anxious to tax the bonds of the Government, not railroad and other securities. This is the meanest, nastiest kind of repudiation. If the Government wants to levy a tax on all debts it will do it, but there will be no discrimination. The Republican doctrine is this, that these bonds can be taxed like all other bonds and securities. My fellow citizens, I thank God that this country is honest and rich enough to pay all its debts. If the people of the United States ever attempt to cheat their creditors it would be the meanest thing perpetrated since the birth of Adam. A country so rich in resources, with so many blessings showered upon it by the Almighty, should pay all its debts.

There have been great and gross misstatements made as to the expenditures of the Republican party in its administration in time of peace. Some make the most extravagant assertions. Mr. Hendricks, United States Senator from Indiana, says that from the 30th of June, 1865, to the 30th of June, 1868, the immense sum of twelve hundred and seventy-eight millions of dollars had been derived by the Treasury from various sources. This great sum of money, he said, showed in three years of peace an average annual ordinary expenditure, after deducting one hundred and seventy-five millions per annum for interest on debt, of three hundred millions. I made inquiry into this statement and found from official sources that the receipts were correct. Now what become of the money. From the same sources I learned that $450,000,000 were paid during those three years in interest on the public debt; $266,000,000 of the principal had been discharged; $140,000,000 had been paid to soldiers, having been due and unpaid previous to June 30th, 1865; $49,000,000 had been paid as bounties to the soldiers, some of which the boys here must have received; $11,000,000 was paid for property destroyed during the war, $750,000 of which was paid Pennsylvania for repelling the invasion of rebel hordes. Now this leaves an average annual expenditure, for ordinary expenses of the Government, of only $123,000,000, so that all this talk about the extravagance is bumcombe. (The speaker here took occasion to pay a high compliment to Gen. James K. Moorhead, who had been so active, attentive and industrious in looking after Pittsburgh interests, and he hoped Gen. Negley would prove a worthy successor.)

After peace was restored the demands on the Treasury for appropriations were great, as Gen. Moorhead, who served with the speaker on the Committee on Ways and Means, could attest. Railways wanted aid, rivers had to be improved and opened, and the speaker could not recall a single appropriation excepting those for the Freedmen's Bureau and Reconstruction purposes, that was not voted for by the Democrats. The opposition make the Freedmen's Bureau cost an immense sum of money. A large amount of the money appropriated has been expended in caring for and protecting, feeding and educating the poor blacks of the South and many of the indigent whites. In the three years, 1865-8, the cost has been about three and one-fourth millions of dollars, and the entire cost since its foundation to this date has been but five millions of dollars. The man who is mean enough to grumble at this great national charity is mean enough to vote for Seymour. The Republicans are responsible for the expenses of Reconstruction, but that has accomplished the good end of securing to our National Legislature loyal and true Union men. The speaker would for one never have voted to admit a representative from those States so long as they were governed by red-handed rebels.

It is for you to say whether the great Republican party that sustained our flag, wiped out slavery—a party that did more for civilization and advancement than all others combined ever have done—a party composed of the intelligence of the country—a party in which ninety out of every hundred of the brave soldiers are found—a party that never furnished a rebel or a traitor—the great Union party of the United States, will be permitted to govern till the Democrats learn wisdom. As Lincoln used to say, a homely expression, "it is not safe to swap horses while crossing a stream," and we are now crossing a stream in the affairs of our country. The contest is not over till a black Republican can take up his carpet bag and start from Pittsburgh or any other Northern place, and in peace take up his quarters in the South, and before his cabin plant the flag of his country,

The Republican party has a great mission yet to perform. It has got to spread the great net works of railroads, of which Pittsburgh is one of the centres, across the Continent. We are not to have only one Pacific Railroad, but three or four of them. It has to spread churches and school houses and colleges. It has to educate the young Ku-Kluxes of the South not to upset churches. This is no time to surrender the political organization that has been great in peace and faithful in war. What will you gain by placing the Democrats in power? If it had acted wisely and started out in a new line, there would have been many of its old party members who loved the name of Democracy adhering to it; but its leaders are contaminated with ideas of slavery, and while it exists there will be danger of the resurrection of slavery. This nation is cut of its swaddling clothes and is old enough to take care of itself, and will do it. The speaker was thankful that the Union party was so careful in its choice of a candidate. Grant was not nominated because a Republican, but because a voice came up from the PEOPLE demanding his nomination. A voice came up that the great hero who had the fortune of doing more for his country than any other man of the age was a successor worthy of Lincoln. Ah! my friends, think of the succession to Andrew Johnson!

The speaker here paid a glowing tribute to Grant as a man, hero, soldier, and politician. He narrated how after the battles of the Wilderness, where ten thousand brave boys fell, he had met him, with all the marks of the true hero about him—calm and possessed, his eye bright and confident. He had grappled Lee, and quietly smoking his cigar gave forth the memorable expression, "I will fight it out on this line if it taket all Summer." It is eminently proper that the people should honor such a man with the highest gift at their disposal.

The speaker next spoke of Schuyler Colfax. How he had been an humble printer boy and emigrated to Indiana and hewed his way up and up the ladder till he got to be editor of a one horse country newspaper. How he was sent to a State Convention, at which his ability was such as to direct public attention towards him. He ran for Congress and was defeated, but neither he nor his friends were discouraged. He made another trial and was elected, and for many years has been identified with the affairs of the country, and more or less before the people. He is a man of unblemished character, of great ability, and pleasing manner and address. If out of the Providence of Almighty God, Gen. Grant shall be called away by death, Schuyler Colfax will never betray his party. [Applause.]

With such candidates, continued the speaker, and such principles, the ranks should crowd on to victory. The first wave of popular opinion came from Vermont, and it took the wind out of many sails. A few days hence Maine will be heard from with a majority of from fifteen to twenty thousand, and we will hear from State after State until nothing will be left of the copperhead-rebel party, and Seymour will be permitted to retire to the coveted peace and quietness of farm life.

The speaker concluded by returning his thanks to the audience for the attention with which he was listened to, and hoped that he would be able to better entertain them on the occasion of another visit.

The speech was a masterly effort and produced marked effect on the audience, and everybody was pleased with Hon. Jno. Sherman as an orator and expounder of the priciples held by the Union Republican party.

Hon. Thos. M. Marshall was loudly called for, and finally came forward. He said he was in bad health, in no condition to address the audience, and besides had been appointed to speak at Kittanning to-day, for which occasion he would reserve himself. He promised, however, at another time to speak at length to his fellow-citizens on the issues of the campaign. He had been talking in campaigns in Allegheny county for twenty years, but proposed to retire after the present, when Rebellion and Democracy would be effectually and forever squelched. He was proud of his fellow-citizens of Allegheny county—felt proud when away from home—it was so pleasant to say that he came from a county that gave ten thousand Republican majority. He was glad, also, to get back home—not like the man who left the Third ward. Mr. M. found he was making a speech in spite of himself, and after some further remarks retired, repeating his promise to speak at length on some other occasion before the close of the campaign.

Hon. George V. Lawrence, of the Twenty-fourth District, was the next and last speaker, and entertained the audience for fifteen or twenty minutes in reviewing the issue before the people. His remarks elicited marked applause. When he concluded the meeting adjourned with three rousing cheers for the National, State, County and City tickets.

The Charges Against Commissioner Rollins.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburg hGazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The investigation into Mr. Binckley's charges against Commissioner Rollins and Deputy Commissioner Harlan was resumed to-day. The only evidence of importance elicited was from J. D. McHenry, formerly Inspector of Internal Revenue, who testified to the brand on certain barrels of whisky being mysteriously changed while being carted from North river to Fourteenth street, and to seeing S. N. Pike hand a check for one hundred and five thousand or ten thousand five hundred dollars to Mr. Harlan at his office next day, remarking at the time it was a note from a friend. Collector Smyth was discharged and examined as a witness, but gave no evidence of importance. The examination was adjourned till to-morrow noon.

Old Defenders of Baltimore.

—The Amoskeag Manufacturing Company of New Hampshire, is noted for its cotton goods and fire engines. In the manufacture of the latter one hundred and twenty-five hands are employed, and three hundred of the steam fire engines are now in use, and about seventy five engines are turned out yearly. In the cotton mill there are 103,500 spindles, 500 bales of cotton are consumed every week, and 600 yards of goods per week are turned out. The value of the annual product of cotton goods made by this company is $5,700,000.

—Works for the manufacture of paper pulp from wood have recently been established at Curtisville, Mass. The process of manufacture is very simple, occupying less than one day. The pulp is made of second growth poplar wood, sawed into blocks ten inches long. The bark is removed from these blocks, they are cut in halves and in clear water. The blocks are pressed upon a common grindstone on which water is continually flowing, and the powdered wood is carried by the current of water through several sieves into a vat, from which the water is drained off. The material is pressed to remove the moisture, shaped into cakes, and is ready for use. Mr. Pagensticher, who owns the patent, has three machines in oparation.

A Rural Scene in Africa.

As a picture of still life, take the account of the Morambala marsh:

It is in such spots as these I am describing that animal life abounds beyond conception. The plentiful supply of water, the rank vegetation for cover and for food, and the patches of forest, afford all that the antelope tribe and the large game of Africa require. Elephants, rhinoceru, and buffalo are very plenty, while waterbuck, zebra, hartebeest, and numerous other animals stray about in mixed herds. The labor of penetrating far in these marshes is terrible, nay impossible, except when the dry season is at its height; then, of course, the heat is fearful. Still there is a wild kind of charm connected with them. Acres of azure blue lilies hide the water in places, and for the moment deceive the eye which has acknowledged day by day the similar hue above. Hollyhocks and convolvuli are among the reeds, the palm tree's stateliness, and the acacia's blossoms are things that fix themselves on the mind; the mists are whiter, the cries of the birds wilder, the largeness larger, and the stillness of the dawn more still upon these lagoons than anywhere else. All Nature by consent seems to acknowledge this reign of stillness, knowing that sound travels so easily and swiftly over water and through white fog. Rarely is silence broken, and then only by sounds which utter allegiance to the scene. It is the lion's roar before the dawn, the hippopotamus' trumpet vibrating over the glassy expanse of water as day breaks, and the shriek, as from another world, of the fishhawk—these sounds are allowable and allowed in the still marshes. The report of a gun is sacrilege; a bird's song would be destruction. By the pools stand white, ghostly-looking bitterns, bleached for night, whose very lustreless eyes seem sworn to perpetual silence; they rise from the sedge in flocks; they slide a few boats' l ngths over the water and then settle down again, li'eless and alone. Myriad strings of geese move twice a day, when the scene shifting must be done—that is, when sun rises and sun sets—but they do it as noiselessly as they can. Troops of pelicans pass here and there, quartering the heavens into long lines with the geese, but no noise comes from them, they never move again when once they alight unless disturbed, for all and everything must help to keep all still.

EDUCATIONAL.

THE WESTERN UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Every Parent and Guardian who has a son or ward to educate should know that we have in our city a Chartered Institution, endowed by the state and the generous friends of learning to the amount of $200 000 Preparatory, Commercial, Scientific and Collegiate in character, with a Faculty ten in number, and a course of study equal to that of our best Colleges. The rooms are large and high, and the apparatus and cabinet of a superior kind. The Observatory belonging to it has one of the finest telescopes in the country, is endowed, is in charge of an astronomer of great ability, and is having four new instrumets added to it at an expense of $5 000. All the income from endowment and from tuition is expended in supporting the institution. The aim of the Board of Trustees, who are among our most enterprising and benevolent citizens, is to furnish the best advantages to all our youth equal to those enjoyed in any of our cities. The instruction in all the courses of study is thorough, no temporary expedients being resorted to to secure popularity merely. Only Professors of ability and experience are employed.

Catalogues or information may be had by calling at the University Building, corner of ROSS AND DIAMOND STREETS, between 9 and 11 A. M. The next term will commence September 1st.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, September, 7, 1868.

The general markets are devoid of anything that is new or really important. In a general way, business is dull, though improving slowly in some respects, and we are in hopes that once navigation is fairly resumed, of which the indications are more favorable at this writing, that there will be a decided improvement in the volume of trade, and that prices will rule lower. The receipts of general produce continue liberal, and the supplies of almost everything are fully up to the demand.

APPLES—Under the influence of diminished arrivals, appear to be a shade firmer, though, as yet, prices are unchanged, ranging from $2 to $4 per bbl, as to quality.

POTATOES— In better supply, and cannot fairly be quoted above $3,50. Jersey Sweets unchanged at $6 to $6,50 per bbl.

BUTTER—Continues scarce, and exorbitant prices are still maintained, prime to choice fresh packed selling at 35 to 40c.

EGGS—In light supply, and with a moderate demand, prices have advanced to 20 to 21c.

CHEESE—Is firm but unchanged at 14 to 15c for Western Reserve and Hamburg; 17 to 18c for Factory and Goshen and 20 for Sweitzer.

SEEDS—Small sales of Timothy seed at $3 25 to $3,50. Flaxseed is in demand at $2,25 and but but little offering. Cloverseed is nominal at $7,50 to $8.

LARD OIL—Is firm but unchanged at $1,20 for No. 2, and $1,50 for No. 1.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is in steady demandat 14¼c to 14¾c for Shoulders; 16½ to 16¾c for Ribbed, and 18¼c to 18¾ for Clear Sides, and 22 to 22¼ for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is quoted at 19¼ to 20c in tierces; and 21 to 21½, in kegs. Mess Pork $30,50 to $31,50.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet and lower; the mills are paying $2,05 to $2,10 for Red, and 3 to 5 cents higher for White. Corn is firm but unchanged at $1,10 to $1,15 for mixed to prime Yellow. Oats—the demand is only fair at the recent advance, though it is claimed that they cannot be sold for less; we continue to quote at 65c, on track, and 68 to 70c, in store; sale of 300 bushs at 66c, delivered. Rye is unchanged at $1.40. Barley is strong, and prime Spring may be quoted strong at $2.

HAY—Is unchanged ranging from $20 to $30 per ton, as to quality.

SALT—Is dull and unchanged at $1,75 to $1,80 to the trade, and $2, for small lots in store.

MILL FEED—Sales on track of one car shorts at $1,20; 1 car Seconds at $1,50; and 1 car Middlings at $2.15. The mill prices are as follows: Bran $1,10; Shipstuffs $1,50, and Middlings $2,00.

FLOUR—Is in fair local demand but lower, the mills having reduced their prices 30 cents per bbl. We now quote Extra Family at $10,50 in bbls and $10,20 in sacks; and Double Extra at $11 in barrels and $10,70 in sacks. Rye Flour $9 per bbl.

RIVER NEWS.

The Monongahela was again rising slowly yesterday with three feet in the channel by the pier mark. The weather continues cloudy and unsettled with every appearance of more rain—we had several very heavy showers during Sunday night.

The steamer Bayard leaves for Buffington this morning to bring up a crowd of coal boatmen.

The steamer Glasgow, Captain Robinson, is announced for Cincinnati and Louisville on Wednesday.

Captain "John Woolburn's" new Arkansas packet, "Fort Gibson," leaves for New Orleans on Thursday.

The towboat Diamond, which some time ago broke her shaft, has had a new one put in position, and she is now ready for business.

A couple of towboats, which have been lying at the Sister Islands, just above Wheeling, during the low water, came into port yesterday.

An Oil City telegram, dated 1:30 p. m., says: The river has 11 inches of water in the channel and stationary. The weather is cloudy and cool. We had some rain last night.

Captain James Mellen, of the Glendale, is here on a visit to his family. The Glendale is, and has been for some time past, laid up at St. Louis waiting for a rise here to enable her to load for Pittsburgh.

—The J. R. Hoyle was sold by the United States Marshal at Evansville, on Tuesday, to Mr. Reed, of the Saline Mines, for $2,600.

—A Convention of western boatmen will assemble at Louisville on the 23d of September to take in consideration various points of interest in connection with the navigation of the western rivers and the laws regulating the same. Delegations are expected from Pittsburgh, Wheeling, Cincinnati, Nashville, Memphis, New Orleans and St. Louis.

—The steamer Success arrived at St. Louis on Wednesday from Fort Benton, with two hundred and forty passengers and $300,000 in treasure. One hundred passengers and $100,000 in treasure were put off at St. Joseph. Business is reported to be brisk in Montana. There is no trouble with the Indians. The mines are being well developed, and there will be an increase in the yield of gold this season. The boat left on the 12th of August, and had very low water coming down. Immense herds of buffalo were seen crossing the river at Fort Peck. A terrific storm and heavy snow were encountered on the 15th. She had ten tons of silver quartz. There are twenty-two inches of water on most of the bars, with only 18 inches on Dauphin's Rapids, and the river falling.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 144⅛.

THE World and other Democratic journals at the East are giving a rumor that Judge MELLON, of this city, will vote for SEYMOUR and BLAIR. We have the best authority for saying that this rumor has no foundation whatever in fact.

THE HON. JOHN SHERMAN will speak in Pennsylvania as follows:

Sept. 8 "Blairsville.
" 9 "Tyrone.
" 10 "Lancaster.
" 12 "Williamsport.

These dates and places are official.

THAT unimpeachable Democrat, Hon. S. S. COX—sometimes known as SUNSET COX—writes from Maine that the Republicans will carry the State "by a reduced majority" he adds, to soothe the feelings of his friends. Advices, however, from less interested quarters concur in predicting a larger Republican majority than the State has given since 1864.

THE apparent increase in the public debt for the past month, as shown by the official statement this morning, is $12,079,465. This includes $7,000,000 for the Alaska purchase, and $3,214,000 in issues of railway bonds and leaves less than $2,000,000 of increase, notwithstanding the extraordinary and disproportionate payments for civil services, Indians, &c.

IN SEPTEMBER, 1864, J. G. SMITH was elected Governor of Vermont by a majority of 19,415 votes over REDFIELD (Dem.) That year Mr. LINCOLN'S majority in that State was 29,097. In 1868 the Republican majority in September is about 30,000. An increase in the same proportion this year of the November vote over that of September will give a majority for GRANT and COLFAX of over 40,000.

THE entire real and personal property of the Empire State of New York has just been valued for taxation; the totals are respectively, real estate, $41,327,407,879; personal property, $438,685,258; aggregate, $1,776,689,140. This is undoubtedly considerably under the correct mark, New York not being one of the very few States which attempt, in their assessments of property for taxation, even a tolerable approximation to its actual value when titles change in the customary way. It is believed that the entire property of the nation if fairly estimated, would swell to a total of about seventy-two thousand millions of dollars.

FAIR WARNING.

The attention of the Mayor has been called, on three or four occasions, to assaults made by his political friends upon Republican meetings and processions. Yet there has been no abatement of these outrages, and so far as we are aware no efforts to abate them. On the night Mrs. DAKE was brutally arrested, a gross Democratic assault was made upon the Tanners' Club, while parading in Lawrenceville. If the Mayor does not know that these Democratic assaults upon Republicans must be suppressed, we do. If he continues, through imbecility, to fail of his duty in that particular, he will render it incumbent upon Republicans to take their rightful protection into their own hands; and when they once start in that way, we predict they will do their work effectually.

LAST NIGHT.

Pittsburgh honored herself last night by the manner in which she put honor upon Mr. JOHN SHERMAN and the Republican cause. The spacious City Hall was packed to its utmost capacity, and many hundreds went away because unable to obtain even standing room.

The orator labored under considerable hoarseness, the result of much speaking; but he handled every topic on which he touched admirably, eliciting the warmest applause from an audience which was fully in sympathy with the drift of his argumentation and appeals.

It is true he found the Republican watchfires well lighted and brilliantly burning when he came here. He has the satisfaction of knowing, as he departs this morning, for further labors in this State, that he has added to the intensity of the glow and the purity of the light given forth from this Republican stronghold.

If there has been solicitude beyond the borders of this Commonwealth as to the result of our October election, there is none here. We shall beat the Democrats handsomely. We do not say this, as an intimation to Pennsylvania Republicans that they have no farther work to do. They have much. In venturing our prediction we count on their doing it. Our confidence should therefore be taken by them not as a license to repose, but as an incentive to increased vigilance and energy. Push on the column, for the hour of triumph draws nigh.

EXCULPATION OF THE MAYOR.

It was our purpose, until full official investigation should be had, to make no further comments upon the arrest of Mrs. DAKE; but the systematic attempts made by the friends of Mayor BLACKMORE to lift the responsibility from his shoulders, and place it upon thoseof officer RAUBB, constrain us to relinquish that determination.

The arrest was unquestionably made under general orders issued by the Mayor, applicable to particular portions of the city, and to those only. The Mayor has stated on several occasions, within four weeks, to persons connected with this journal, that he had given such orders, and meant they should be enforced. Respectable young women, but without influential connections or friends, have been arrested, and kept all night in the lock-up. Any woman, no matter what her character or position, has been liable to this outrage in certain localities, if she ventured into the street after dark and unattended by a white male member of her household, as was painfully demonstrated in the case which is now engaging the attention of our citizens.

But there is another side to this case. We have been informed by gentlemen entitled to the utmost credit, that while the Mayor was enforcing this unwarrantably stringent rule in certain wards or squares of the city, he was allowing shameless women the most disreputable impunity in other localities; that when citizens had compelled arrests to be made the offenders were back to their accustomed haunts, resuming their traffic before the complainants could get from the Mayor's office back to their own neighborhoods.

Now, we have never failed to give the Mayor credit for being a well-intentioned gentleman, His fault is not to be found in that direction. The fact is, his capacities are not up to the level of the position he occupies. Meaning to do right, he has not the grasp of mind to enable him to determine what the right is, or how to get at it. He surely ought to comprehend that females have just as clear a right to be in the streets as men, and that any man who endeavors to prevent their using that liberty, is an offender, no matter whether he acts under color of the law or not, provided always the persons interfered with are minding their own proper business.

Wanting in capacity to perform aright the duties of the office he holds, the Mayor is constrained to lean upon others. A fact was recently mentioned in these columns which let in a flood of light on this point. It having been claimed, in evidence of the vigor and faithfulness of the Mayor that over one thousand informations had been filed in his office during the brief term of his administration, it was replied that only one hundred and twenty-nine of them had reached the hands of the Assistant District Attorney. What became of the others? How were they disposed of? by whom and on what terms?

When such things happen, it is useless to say the Mayor is honest, and amiable, and all that. If, superadded to those qualities, he had administrative abilities adequate to the place he is in, he would get along with greater credit to himself, and larger advantages to the city.

THE REBEL BLUNDER IN GEORGIA.

When the rebels claimed a majority of the members elect of the Georgia Legislature, the claim was disputed, our friends relying more on the argument drawn from the decisive majority given for Gov. BULLOCK than from any exact knowledge of the facts as to the Legislative body. The subsequent choice by this new Legislature of United States Senators, one of whom is known to be a supporter of SEYMOUR and BLAIR, afforded to our disappointed friends a partial revelation of the true state of things. The late action of the same body leaves no doubt that the rebel claim is fully substantiated, in their entire control of both branches. We learn, therefore, without surprise, that, notwithstanding the tenor of the Reconstruction and Enabling Acts of Congress, and in violation of the new State Constitution itself, the rebel majority have commenced the work of purging each House of the colored members lawfully elected thereto. All such members were expelled from the lower house last week, and the Senate will follow with similar action.

The game has been shrewdly played by the rebels, but there is reason to believe that it may yet be defeated. The adjournment of Congress, before the ratification by Georgia of the XIVth Amendment had been, duly certified at Washington, proved to be fortunately, the means of a postponement of the admission of her Senators and Representatives. Consequently, while the rebels have so far succeeded as to obtain the surrender of the State government, from the military hand, to the newly elected civil authorities, the terms and substance of their new Constitution have yet to undergo the ordeal of a Congressional investigation, before the admission of the Senators and Representatives. It will then be settled, and by the proper authority, whether the instrument be "Republican in form," and in obedience to the requirements of Federal law. The rebels have been too fast; they have exposed their game too soon, and, like many another trick of the same sort, will only be damaged by its performance. The ratification of the amendment, before the perpetration of the last outrage, and while the Legislature was preserving the cover of compliance with the Federal will, cannot be disputed.

Another effect of this untimely exposure of the rebel designs will be to neutralize completely all their later efforts throughout the South to influence the colored vote. That game has ended. The freedmen, fairly warned of what may be in store for them in other States, will take heed that their votes in November shall all count on the side of the Union.

THE CAUSE IN OHIO.

The Republicans of Ohio are confident of achieving a grand victory in October. Mr. PENDLETON knew why he cancelled his political appointments in other States and went home to look after the canvass. It was not because the signs were propitious to his hopes, but because they filled him with consternation. His return will do neither him nor the Democratic party any good. Their case is beyond medication and cure. The tide of public opinion is setting strongly against them, and they cannot fail of being submerged and swept away.

The Republicans expect to carry all the Congressional districts but two. In the First District (Cincinnati) Mr. S. F. CAREY is already doomed to defeat. The Republican workingmen have abandoned him in disgust, and are supporting his competitor. He will be beaten considerably.

Between the Republicans of Ohio and those of Pennsylvania there is a generous rivalry, not to see which will give the largest absolute majority, but to determine which, under all the attendant circumstances, will give the most telling triumph. They will both electrify their political associates throughout the Union by their October verdicts.

MR. SEYMOUR, in his letter to HON. C. M. INGERSOLL, says:

"I see the Republicans are trying to dodge the financial issues, and to sink the election into a mere personal contest. Our papers must not allow this. They must push the debt and taxation upon public attention."

This would be bad for the Democracy, for it was the rebellion which that party got up, and still glory in, which created all this debt and taxation upon the country.

GEORGIA.

Legislative Proceedings—The Question of Negro Eligibility.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ATLANTA, Sept. 7.—The Senate to-day, by a vote of twenty to fifteen, refused to reconsider the relief bill passed last week.

A resolution was offered declaring Senators Campbell and Wallace not eligible to seats, they being negroes.

Mr. Higbee, Republican, read a resolution passed heretofore under general order No. 90, and insisted that it took a two-third vote to bring this matter up. The Speaker decided that a two-third vote was necessary.

Mr. Halcomb said it was the most extraordinary decision ever made, and an appeal from the decision was sustained by 21 to 8, and the resolution was made the special order for Friday next.

The House by a vote of 69 to 42 passed a resolution to elect a board of Commissioners to appoint officers of the State railroad. The Senate sustained the Governor's veto of the Savannah bill by yeas 18 and nays 18. To-day is the last day for registration.

LOUISIANA.

The New Orleans Public Schools.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, September 7.—The House on Saturday passed a bill vesting entire control of the New Orleans Public Schools in a board of sixteen directors to be appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate, this will probably kill the Conway bill.

A bill was introduced prohibiting the opening of Public Schools for the present. It was placed on the calender for future action. The schools opened to-day under the direction of the old board and with the former regulations in force.

The resistration bill has finally passed.

TENNESSEE.

Committee to Wait on the President—A Soldier's Skull Broken.

By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NASHVILLE, September 5.—The Legislative committee to wait on the President left this afternoon for Washington.

W. C. Smith, Company F, 4th infantry, had his skull broken to-day by a negro, in a negro drinking saloon on Cherry street. He cannot survive.

Maryland Congressional Primary Elections.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BALTIMORE, Sept. 7.—At the primary election for delegates to the Convention to nominate a candidate for Congress from the Third District, which is composed of the wards of the city from the Eighth to the Twentieth inclusive, the Swann ticket was carried in every ward. In the Second District, to which the first seven wards are attached, Archer carried enough to insure his re-nomination.

The Vermont Election.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BURLINGTON, VT., September 7.—Official returns of the election are not yet completed, but the following statement is believed to be correct. Page, Republican, 40,988. Edward Denn, Democrat, 14,023. Republican majority, 26,965.

The foregoing is a correct statement of the public debt as appears from the books and the Treasurer's returns in the Department on the 1st day of September, 1868.

[Signed] H. MCCULLOCH,
Secretary Treasury.

The warrants issued by the Department during August to meet the requirements of the Government amounted in round numbers to the following: The civil, miscellaneous and foreign intercourse, including the Alaska purchase, $13,000,000; interest on public debt, $4,380,000; War, $11,800,000; Navy, $1,600,000; Interior, Pensions and Indian, $6,500,000—total $37,703,000. The warrants issued for redemption of public debt do not appear in the above.

CONGRESS.

The Republican Congressional Committee is in receipt of many letters, principally from the South, with reference to a session of Congress this month. The State Republican Committees and nearly all the members of Congress from that section favor it. From other quarters there is earnest opposition, owing to the near approach of presidential election and engagements of members of Congress to speak during the canvass, because they deem it inexpedient. There has been no direct expression on the subject form Senator Morgan or Representative Schenck, whose recommendation is to determine the question. The impression is there will be no session in September.

NAVAL OFFICERS ORDERED TO DUTY.

The following officers have been ordered to duty at the Naval Academy by the 1st of October: Commander Geo. E. Belknap, Lieut. Commander John W. Phillips, John F. Glensy, Chas. F. Blake, Lieut. W. McLay and P. F. Harrington. Surgeon Adrian Hudson is ordered to Naval Station, Mound City, to relieve Surgeon Oberly, who awaits further orders.

REVENUE APPOINTMENTS.

The following were appointed to-day: Storekeepers—Samuel Johnson and K. Hamilton, Ohio, and Rufus Matter, Lancaster, Ohio. The following were appointed gaugers: David Frank and A. J. Crimson, Seventeenth District, Pennsylvania, and W. W. Malcher, for the Twelfth Ohio District.

TOBACCO WAREHOUSES WANTED IN RICHMOND.

A number of prominent tobacco manufacturers arrived here to-day from Richmond, for the purpose of requesting the Secretary of the Treasury and Commissioner of Internal Revenue to establish bonded tobacco warehouses in Richmond. There are now in that city over one million pounds waiting shipment. The owners are unable to pay the full tax, but are willing to have their tobacco bonded.

TERRIBLE INDIAN RAVAGES.

Secretary Schofield received a dispatch from Hon. Schuyler Colfax from Denver City, September 6th, in which he states that Indians are committing terrible ravages all around that section of country, even as near as twenty miles from Denver City.

PATENTS.

During the past week there were two hundred and seventy applications for patents and fifty-four cavoets. For the same time three hundred and twenty patents have been granted.

FROM EUROPE.

English Press and the New American Minister—Dr. Bellows on the Irish Church Disestablishment—Rioters Arrested in Manchester, England.

By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, September 7.—The Daily News, in commenting on the mission of the new American Minister, Johnson, says: "Difficult questions are to be treated, but England has given ample proof of her good faith. In sending Mr. Johnson to this country the United States Government shows its desire to settle pending disputes, and such disposition is the best guarantee that negotiations will be brought to a satisfactory conclusion."

Rev. Mr. Bellows, of New York, has written a letter to the London Times on the Irish Church Question. He says the disestablishment of the Irish Church is a measure of even more importance to the foreign relations than to internal interests of Great Britain. The accomplishment of this reform would be a great step toward the removal of those grievances which serve so powerfully to inflame the feelings of the Irish in America against the British government, and which, while they continue to exist, make war, provoked by the persistent efforts of Irish leaders, at any time possible between England and America.

MANCHESTER, September 7.—Thirty-seven persons were arrested for taking part on both sides in the riots of Sunday, and brought before the police magistrates today, and after a short preliminary investigation, were remanded for further examination. The excitement still runs high and a renewal of the disturbance is feared. Every precaution has been taken to preserve order.

ITALY.

FLORENCE, Sept. 7.—Minister Cadorni has resigned his position in the Government on account of ill health, and his duties are performed by Count Contelli, Minister of Public Works.

In accordance with the requirement of the Convention recently concluded with tobacco manufacturers, the latter have deposited with the Government 18,000,000 tires as a pledge of good faith.

IS YOUR DISEASE RHEUMATISM?

Many persons, supposing they are suffering from this disease, have applied Linaments, Plasters and other Rheumatic Remedies without obtaining any relief, when in fact the cause of pain is a derangement of the Kidneys. These are small organs, but very important, and any obstruction or interference with its functions are indicated by pain in the back and loins, languor and weakness, difficulty in avoiding and unnatural color of the urine. A Diuretic should t once be resorted to.

DR. SARGENT'S

Liuretic or Backache Pills

Can be relied on for these purposes: they have a direct influence on the cells of the kidneys, assists nature in relieving them of any foreign particles, and mulates them to a healthy and vigorous action

Dr. Sargent's Backache Pills

Contain nothing injurious, being composed of entirely vegetable remedies; they do not sicken nor gripe—on the contrary they act as a gentle tonic and restores tone to the system, They are recommended by all who who have tried them.

MEDICAL HINTS FOR THE FALL.

The semi-annual shaking in the fever and ague districts has begun. The fogs of these autumn nights and mornings are surcharged with the elements of intermittent and bilious remittent fevers, and, unfortunately, two-thirds of the community are just in the condition to be disastrously affected by them. Those who have been prudent enough to fortify themselves during the summer with that powerful and infallible vegetable invigoraat -HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS—are fore-armed against malaria, and have nothing to fear. But health is the last thing too many think about. In the pursuit of gain or pleasure the blessing, without which wealth is dross and enjoyment impossible, is neglected.

Better late than never is a consolatory proverb, however, and od who begin to feel the premonitory symptoms of any of the epidemics which are engendered by the malaria of autumn, should immediately resort to the GREAT ANTIDOTE OF THE AGE. A few doses of the BITTERS will break up the chills and prevent their recurrence. In every region where intermittents prevail this purest and best of all vegetable tonics is indispensable. Of all antibilious preparations known it is the most effective and harmless. It does not stimulate the liver violently, like the mineral salivants, but tones, renovates and regulates the organ ithout creating any general disturbance of the system or entailing any reaction. The Bitters are essentially a household specific, and should be atways within reach as the very best means of preventing and checking bilious attacks and intermittent fevers.

CHRONIC DISEASES OF THE EAR.

In observations and notes taken by DR. KEYSER, of this city, on the various diseases of the ear, he says that nine out of ten cases could be cured in their incipiency if app lication were made to some responsible and competent aural surgeon. The Doctor quotes from the opinion of Wilde, a well known aural surgeon, who says: "I fear not to reiterate the assertion which I made on several former occasions, that if the disease of the ear were as well studied or understood by the generality of practitioners, and as early attended to as those of the eye, it would be found that they were just as much within the pale of scientific treatment. * * Deafness is so common and so distressing an infirmity, and when of long standing so incurable, that we cannot too strongly urge all medical practitioners to make themselves familiar with the treatment of the diseases of the ear."

The Doctor says that nearly all annoying Discharges, Buzzings and Morbid Growths peculiar to the organ of the hearing, some of which had lingered through a score or two of years, can be cured or ameliorated by proper treatment.

DR. KEYSER'S RESIDENT OFFICE for LUNG EXAMINATIONS AND THE TREATMENT OF OBSTINATE CHRONIC DISEASES, 120 PENN STREET, PITTSBURGH, PA. Office hours from 9 A. M. UNTIL 3 P. M.

WANTED—MEN AND WOMEN.—Honest men and women who are afflicted with Nervous Headache, Toothache, Pains in the Side, Chest, Limbs, Joints, Neuralgia in the Face, Head, Pains of any kind, deep seated or otherwise, acute or chronic, and especially catarrh, to call at any drug store and ask for a bottle of Dr. ASHBAUGH'S "Wonder of the World," and if you do not wish to pay 50 cents for it before knowing that it will cure you, ask the druggist or his clerk to allow you to uncork a small bottle, place 10 drops in your hand, inhale some and then apply the balance to the locality affected; then state candidly whether you are relieved or not in three minutes. It cures almost instantly, acting directly upon the nervous system, invigorating, exhilerating, surprisingly but pleasantly affecting the mind. Use ten drops as above, and you will say, truly, "Wonder of the World," and never will you consent to be without it. "No Cure, No Pay,"—our motto. For sale wholesale by J. C. TILTON, No. 10½ ST. GRAND MASS CONVENTION!

OF THE

Republicans of Western Pennsylvania,

AT PITTSBURGH,

THURSDAY, September 24, 1868.

The Republican State Central Committee has ordered a GRAND MASS CONVENTION to be held in this city on the 24th of September, inst.

The Republicans of Western Pennsylvania are urgently invited to come, en masse, to this Convention, and so help the good cause along.

Arrangements will be made, as far as possible, with the Railroad Companies for Excursion Trains and Tickets to the Convention.

Eminent speakers have been invited, and their names will be announced in due season.

A Grand Torchlight Procession

Will take place on the night before the Convention, and all GRANT CLUBS and TANNERS' CLUBS are invited to take part in it.

A DAYLIGHT PROCESSION

Will form on THURSDAY MORNING, and an invitation is extended to all trades and associations to be represented in it. The various GRANT and TANNER CLUBS will also take part in it, and the Republicans of the county are expected to turn out in full force, in wagons and on horseback.

The Republicans of the various districts of Allegheny county are earnestly urged to make arrangements, at once, for their share in the demonstration.

The Steamboatmen, Firemen, Butchers, Draymen, Moulders, Glass Blowers, Puddlers, Rollers, Machinists, Carpenters, Brick and Stone Masons, and men of every other trade, are invited to consult together and arrange for such part as each may choose to take in the procession.

REPUBLICANS! Let us have a Rally worthy of the days of 1860 and 1864!

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, September 7, 1868.

CATTLE.

With only an average supply and an improved demand, inspired, no doubt, by the improved character of the advices from the east, the market was somewhat firmer and more active to-day, and, upon the whole, prices were a shade better. As is always the case, when the market stiffens a little, the butchers bought more freely, and did not hesitate as long about it as they have been doing for some time past; and, as we have already noted, prices, particularly for prime fat Cattle, ruled a shade higher, though, compared with last week, the advance established was very slight. There were but comparatively few really prime Cattle on sale, though there was a very fair supply of medium butchers stock, and a diminished number of bulls and stags. We noticed several foreign buyers in market, taking all they could get suitable for shipment, and this, also tended to impart a firmer tone to the market.

As will be seen by reference to the report of sales, prime to extra fat Cattle sold at from 7½ to 8c, and fair to good butchers stock at 6½ to 7c, and medium do at 6c. Stock Cattle in fair demand but unchanged at 4 to 5½c, as to quality and condition. Bulls in light supply, and the demand also was limited; may be quoted at 2¾ to 3½.

At ten o'clock to-day the great proportion of the Cattle had been sold, which is sufficient evidence to any one posted in the business, that the market was quicker and better than it has been for several weeks past, and while, as we have already stated, prices, as a general thing, ruled a fraction higher, the advance was very slight, on inferior and common cattle it was scarcely perceptible.

L. Rothchilds sold 29 head of Butler county stock for Flinner & Sheitemantle at 4,50 to 6, and 10 head Washington county steers at 6 to 7.

N. Folland sold 29 head Armstrong county steers and heifers at 5 to 6,50.

E. Katz sold 23 head Tuscarawas scalawags, for Roenbaugh, at 3 to 4,50.

L. Linz 12 head Butler county stock at 4 for cows and heifers, and 2 at 2,50 for bulls.

Hedges & Taylor sold, on commission, in lots, 60 head of commonish cows, heifers and steers at 5 to 5,50.

Holmes, Lafferty & Co. 25 head of mixed stock at 4,50 to 5,50.

W. C. Thrasher wholesaled 20 head of Western Reserve steers and heifers, averaging 890, to Marks & Bro., at 5,50.

Nicholas Carr sold 40 head of Ohio cows and heifers, on commission, at 5 to 6,75.

L. Oviatt & Co. sold 16 head of Summitt county, Ohio, stock at 3,50 to 5,50 for heifers and steers, and 3 for bulls.

L. & J. Shamberg report having sold 12 head for Flannigan at 6 to 7¼; 10 head for Klutter at 4,50 to 5,15, and 16, on their own account, at 5½ to 6,25.

Hazlewood & Blackstock had 48 head of Ashland county, Ohio, cows and steers—partially sold at an average of 5c; 19 head Belmont county, Ohio, stock for Shepard at 5 to 6¾; 9 head Beaver county steers, for Mansfield, at 5,75 to 6,50; 15 for another party at 4,50 to 6, and 26 head stockers at 4 to 4,50.

L. Keefer 26 head Washington county steers at 4 to 6.

J. & W. Carnes 40 head of Mercer county steers and heifers at 4,75 to 6.

Marks & Bro. 69 head of fair to prime Ohio stock at 5,50 to 7,50.

Trauernan & Lobeman wholesaled 23 head of extra fat Butler Co. steers to Kerwin & Co. at 7,80; retailed 73 head of commonish stock on commission at 4,50 to 5,75, and 12 head on their own account at 6 to 7,45.

Myers & Needy report having retailed 81 head of Washington Co. stock at 6,75 to 7,50.

James McAllister sold 22 head of small heifers and steers for J H Graff at 5 to 5,30, and 16 head of prime to extra steers at 7,50 to 8.

Greenwald & Kahn retailed 62 of fair to prime Ohio stock at 5,25 to 7,75.

Peter Hartman 45 head of Green Co. heifers and steers at 5 to 7.

Kraus & Haas 35 head Ohio stock at 5 to 6,75.

M Verner 20 head at 5 to 6¼.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The number of Sheep and Lambs on sale to-day was not as large as it has been for several weeks past, and as a general thing they were mainly inferior in quality; many of those on sale were "tail ends" left over from last week, and some of them were so poor as to be hardly able to stand up. Prime fat Sheep, if there had have been any such on sale, would have sold readily at an advance, but "scalawags," of which the supply was mainly made up to-day, continue dull as ever. The former we have no doubt would have sold readily at five cents, while the latter may be quoted from $2 down to 50 cents per head. We were quoted the following sales:

Adam Eckert sold 51 at $2 to $3.75 for sheep and $2,75 for lambs.

Emmell & Co; report 410 head at an average of $2,25 for sheep and $1,50 for lambs.

Garwin & Co., report 88 sheep at an average of $1,60.

John Simmers reports 150 sheep and lambs at an average of $2.

Stakely & Bro had seven hundred head of sheep and lambs which were sold at 50 cts to $2,50 for sheep, and $1,00 to $2,00 for lambs.

J R Pringle 116 Mercer Co. sheep and lambs at $1,37 to $3.00.

Flinner & Sheitementle 172 head at $1 to $2,50 for sheep, and 75 to $2,00 for lambs.

Chas. Maggi sold for Davis 129 sheep at 75 to $1,50.

Frank Kraus 75 head sheep at $2 to $3,50.

Wick & Co., 320 sheep at $1 to $2,50.

Emery & Co., 90 sheep at $1,50 to $2.75.

Vandergrift 96 Washington Co. stock at $1,25 to $2,25 for sheep, and $1 to $2 lambs.

Emerick & Co., 126 sheep at $1,50 to $3,50.

J. Rinn 86 sheep at $1 to $2.

HOGS.

The hog market is a little more active the retail demand as is always the case, when the weather commences to get cool, increasing somewhat, though prices, compared with other stock, is too high. We quote at $10 to $11 per cwt for light to prime heavy averages.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTBURGH GAZETTEE, MONDAY, September 7, 1868.

CRUDE.

The market opened somewhat firmer today, under the influence of the advance in Antwerp, but subsequently, relaxed, and closed about where it left off on Saturday, quiet and unchanged. There was but a single sale reported, 1,000 each for October, November and December, at 12c, and 12c may be regarded as the ruling quotation for any delivery between now and January 1st. Spot oil does not seem to meet with much inquiry, and there is but little offer-offering; we heard of some offers to buy at 11¼c, but there seems to be no sellers at anything less than 12c. The market in its present condition is nothing more nor less than a huge problem, and it is one which both buyers and sellers, "bulls" and "bears" are doing their utmost to solve, but, thus far, without success. The future course of the trade is the great topic of discussion, and the views advanced, both pro. and con. are very conflicting.

REFINED.

The market with exception of apparently being a little stronger, has undergone no important change since Saturday. The sales reported were: 2,000 bbls fast half September at 31¾; 1,000 first half September at 31; and 1,000 each September, and October at 31¾. Spot oil may be quoted in the absence of sales at 30¾ to 31; while from October to March, 500 each month, is nominal at 29 to 29¼—the last sale reported for that particular delivery, being at 29½. As in the case of Crude, the market opened up a little stronger under the influence of the advance in Atwerp but subsequently eased up slightly, when a decline of half a franc was reported; prices as already noted have undergone no quotable change compared with last week, and there is no disposition manifested to make concessions in order to effect sales.

WEST NEWTON, PA.

The Republican Columns in Motion.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WEST NEWTON, PA., Sept. 5, 1868.

We have had a grand meeting at this place. The patriotic spirit of the people has been appealed to, and the response is most gratifying.

It had been announced that there would be a neighborhood meeting of Republicans held at this place, and that Hon. John Covode and Major John Allison, of Mercer county, would be present to address the people.

At two o'clock P. M. W. Houseman, Esq., was called to the chair, and the meeting opened by the President introducing Major Allison, an ex-member of Congress from the Beaver District.

Mr. Allison's introductory remarks—in allusion to the highly cultivated country he now entered for the first time, and to some of his old acquaintances who were now honored citizens of the county and especially to his honorable and patriotic friend, Gen. Joseph Markle, who had recently been called to his reward—were most happily conceived and touchingly expressed.

He then proceeded to state, in a very clear and forcible manner, the issues involved and to be decided at the approaching elections. He declared that although the fighting of armed men was over, the results for which the war was prosecuted were not fully secured to the people nor the safety and perpetuity of the Union placed beyond danger. To secure these great results it was necessary, in his opinion, to continue in power the party which had saved the life of the nation. In order that we may have a clear understanding of the positions of the two parties into which the people of this country are divided, and in order to pronounce upon their respective claims upon the confidence of the people, we shall have to go back a few years in the history of this country and inquire into the acts of the two parties. We are not left to judge them by their professions of fidelity and loyalty, but we have their acts recorded in the recent history of the country. The Great Teacher on one occasion said of certain men: "By their fruits ye shall know them." This test is now as applicable to parties as it was on the occasion on which it was delivered.

Major Allison proceeded to say that the war for the preservation of the Union was either right or it was wrong. If it was right and just to repel, by force of arms, the assault made by traitors upon the Union, then President Lincoln, and the patriotic party which sustained him, deserve the eternal gratitude of this, and all the generations that may succeed us in the glorious Union that he and they preserved.

The Democratic party, through their chief, James Buchanan, declared that the Constitution had not clothed the Chief Executive of the nation with power to preserve the Union by coercing a State to remain in the Union. This was the doctrine of imbecility and cowardice, and if Mr. Lincoln had accepted the teachings of Buchanan, and his Attorney General, Jerry Black, we would this day be mourning over a dissevered Union—a lost nation. But Mr. Lincoln did not accept of their interpretations of the Constitution, but drank from a more patriotic fountain. He took counsel from the men who formed the Constitution, from Madison, Hamilton, Jay and their compeers, &c. Mr. Lincoln accepted as the correct interpretation of his powers and duties under the Constitution, the teachings of that grand old hero and patriot, General Jackson, who, when the Union was menaced under precisely similar circumstances to those that surrounded Mr. Buchanan at the close of his administration, and those that met Mr. Lincoln when he entered the Presidential Chair, and issued his immortal proclamation. General Jackson had no doubt but that he had been clothed with ample power, to suppress insurrection, quell rebellion, coerce a State into submission, and, in fact, to do anything that might be necessary to preserve the Union and save the life of the nation. There was no whimpering pusillanimity in the great proclamation which he issued in 1832, warning the Southern traitors that he would enforce the laws, and that resistance would be treason, and would be punished. Mr. Allison then, in a most forcible manner contrasted Jackson Democracy with Buchanan Democracy, and read from Jackson's proclamation and from Buchanan's last message. He then, most triumphantly, vindicated the course of policy pursued by Mr. Lincoln and the party who sustained him through the trying scenes of the war.

At this point Mr. Allison closed in order that the Hon. John Covode should be enabled to address the meeting, so that he might be able to reach another appointment in the evening.

Mr. Covode opened his speech by an allusion to the perfidy of Buchanan's secretaries, stating that they at one time had stolen over nine thousand dollars of a trust fund, to purchase up corrupt leaders, and to distribute fraudulent naturalization papers, &c., &c. Mr. Covode made some strong points and spoke with great force.

He then proceeded to enquire into the proceedings of the late Democratic Convention which met at New York. And showed up the greenback Democracy, and explained how it was, that the greenback Democracy of the Western States succumbed to the bond Democracy of the East, under the leadership of Rothschild's agent—Belmont—and how it was that Pendleton, who had a clear majority when the Convention met, was defeated. It was a victory of Belmont's gold over greenbacks.

"Our Democratic friends profess to be great friends to greenbacks, and wish us to flood the country with them, but they loved Belmont's gold still better, and sold out 'Young Greenbacks' and pocketed the gold. Oh! what a virtuous party do those Democrats make, led on by Vallandigham, H. Clay Dean, Brick Pomeroy and the Rebel Generals."

He then explained why Hancock, who was so strong, was cheated out of the nomination. "The Rebel Generals who ran the Convention to their own purposes, as they did the Charleston Convention in 1860, declared that no man should be nominated who had fought for the Union." They had cunningly kept back this purpose, until it became manifest to them, that unless they took strong ground against it, Hendricks would be nominated on the next ballot. One of the Rebel Generals moved for an adjournment, and although a majority voted no, Mr. Seymour, who was President, adjourned the Convention over till next morning, and that night, they—the Rebel Generals—demanded the sacrifice of Hendricks and Hancock and—with shame, be it said—the cowardly Democratic leaders, as in olden times, obeyed their old masters. "Fellow-citizens, is it not strange that the Northern Democracy will never learn anything." They lost control of every Northern State before the rebellion, by their subserviency to the slave power, and now, when they meet these old slave masters, they are afraid to assert the rights of the North. When this demand was made by the rebel Generals to sacrifice Hancock because he fought for the Union, and of Hendricks, because he voted for appropriations to carry on the war, the Northern Democracy should have withdrawn from the Convention and refused all alliance with such men. But no, they bowed submissively, and put in nomination such men as suited the rebel leaders, &c. Mr. Covode continued his incisive thrusts for an hour and a half to the great satisfaction of his friends. The meeting then adjourned till half past seven, at which time it was announced Major Allison would complete his speech.

At the appointed time the largest hall in our village was packed to listen to the conclusion of Major Allison's speech. He resumed by charging the war, with all its fearful destruction of human life, and its waste of billions of treasure, to the faithlessness of the Democratic party. They had a well ascertained majority, and could have elected either Breckinridge or Douglas, but the leaders who at that time controlled the Democratic party did not want to succeed. The Southern States had been educated up to the policy of Disunion, Calhoun's doctrines, since those grand old Union men, Jackson, Clay and Benton had been called to their reward, had become the leading ideas of the South, and besides, Southern politicians saw that from the wonderful growth of Western free trades, that the political power which the slave interest had wielded since the organization of the government, was about to depart from them—the sceptre of dominion was to pass into other hands. Southern traitors and demagogues had for years been preparing the minds of the people for war, in case a President be elected whose political sentiments were distasteful to them. Many of the Southern States had passed resolutions by their Conventions, that in a certain contingency they would dissolve their connection with the Union, &c., &c. Mr. Buchanan knew all this, and for months before he left the Presidential Mansion, he knew that most, if not all the members of his Cabinet, were deep in those plots of treason that were hatched in the several departments which surrounded his mansion. Either a criminal sympathy with these plots; or a cowardly fear deterred him from raising a finger to stay the hands of those traitors who were in his councils. A great majority of the Democratic leaders, including Horatio Seymour, approved of Mr. Buchanan's treacherous and base conduct. He had the power and he could have nipped the rebellion in the bud. But he sat in the Presidential chair, in constant fear—afraid to do anything contrary to the wishes of the rebel leaders, lest he should be assassinated before he had filled his term. The miserable old man often whimpered that "he would be the last President of the United States."

Mr. Allison charged the Democratic party with the high crime of derilection of duty, on that momentous occasion, and with a purpose to tamely submit to a dissolution of the Union and a destruction of the nation without making an effort to save it. And because of these great crimes, that party has forfeited all claims to the confidence of the people.

This arraignment of the Democratic party for base neglect of duty, was one of the most impressive and eloquent denunciations that it has been our fortune to listen to; and many of our venerable citizens declare that they seldom ever heard it surpassed for power and earnest persuasiveness.

He then asked, "is it not monstrous audacity in that party now, so soon after these occurrences, to ask the American people to entrust them again, with the administration of a government that their allies in this campaign, tried to destroy?"

I cannot follow Mr. Allison in his allusions to the discovery and to the settlement of this country, the development and growth of our institutions. To the fact that this Continent appeared to be reserved by Providence as the great Theatre upon which the great principles of free government should put on trial, and the problem, whether men could be educated up to that high development necessary to the intelligent discharge of the duties devolving upon freemen, upon whose shoulders the government of their country rested.

He then took a rapid survey of our responsibilities, declaring that the Democratic platform—with the southern Wade Hampton's interpretation for it—meant war. We have had one war to conquer the rebels; they now modestly ask us to destroy or drive out the State governments in seven States, which would inevitably produce another war—a war for the reinstatement of disfranchised rebel leaders into power and position.

In this connection he discussed the fourteenth article of amendment to the Constitution; explained its necessity, and the relief and Democratic objection to it. That the third article of the amendment, precluding the rebel leaders from holding office, was the cause of the opposition and hostility of the Democratic party to the reconstruction acts of Congress.

The rebel leaders—the men who deserted their seats in the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States, in order to be leaders in the rebel armies, and to take seats in the rebel Congress, and to fill places of trust in the rebel government—could not again hold office at Washington, and again hatch treason at the Capital of the nation. These were the true reasons for the opposition that the reconstruction acts met with.

Mr. A. then entered into a discussion of the tax and bond question, declaring that the system of taxation adopted by the Republicans was wise and less oppressive than that of any government known to us.

The rich and the luxurious, together with our various banks and other corporations paid nearly all of our taxes. To adopt the Democratic system of equal taxation would tax every foot of land, every flock of sheep, every herd of cattle, every pig and plow, every horse and cow of the farmer. These are all exempt. Do you wish such a change? And if you had it in operation one year you would speedily demand its repeal. He closed with an eloquent appeal to the people to stand by the party that saved the nation. SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ THE APPETITE FOR

Tobacco Destroyed!

Leave off Chewing and Smoking the Poisonous Weed, Tobacco.

One box of ORTON'S PREPARATION IS WARRANTED to destroy the appetite for tobacco in any person, no matter how strong the habit may be, ☞ IF IT FAILS IN ANY CASE THE MONEY WILL BE REFUNDED. It is almost impossible to break off from the use of tobacco by the mere exercise of the will. Something is needed to assist nature in overcoming a habit so firmly rooted; with the help of the preparation there is not the least trouble. Hundreds have used it who are willing to bear witness to the fact that ORTON'S PREPARATION completely destroys the appetite for tobacco and leaves the person as free from any desire for it as before he commenced its use. It is perfectly safe and harmless in all cases. The Preparation acts directly upon the same glands and secretions affected by tobacco, and through these upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing the poison of tobacco from the system, and thus allaying the unnatural cravings of tobacco.

NO MORE HANKERING FOR TOBACCO AFTER USING ORTON'S PREPARATION! RECOLLECT IT IS WARRANTED. BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The following are a few selected from the multitude of recommendations in our possession:

[From W. P. Heald, Esq., Bangor, Me.]

BANGOR, Me., April 24, 1868.

I hereby certify that I have used tobacco for thirty years past, and for the last fifteen years I have used two pounds per month. I have made attempts to leave off at different times. I have left off one year at a time, but always continued to hanker for it until I used Orton's Preparation, which has completely cured me of the appetite for tobacco. I would recommend all who are affected with this terrible habit to try the preparation, which will certainly cure it if the directions are followed.

W. P. HEALD.

[From E. W. Adkins, Knoxville, Tenn.]

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., August 5, 1867.

This is to certify that I had used tobacco to such an extent that my health had become greatly impaired, and my whole system deranged and broken down. In June, 1867, I purchased one box of Orton's Preparation, and after using it I found that I was completely cured. I have not had any hankering or desire for tobacco since using the preparation. I believe it to be all that it is recommended, and I would advise all who wish to quit the use of tobacco to try one box of Orton's Preparation.

E. W. ADKINS.

[From John Morrill, Bangor, Me.]

BANGOR, Me., March 24, 1868.

This is to certify that I have used tobacco for eighteen years; have tried many times to leave off, but have suffered so much from a dizziness in my head, and gnawing at my stomach, that I have soon given up the trial. A short time since a friend induced me to try Orton's Preparation (sold by you.) I have done so, and am completely cured. I did not in the least hanker after tobacco, either to smoke or chew, after I began to use the Preparation.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Daily Prayer Meeting—From 12 M. to 12:30 o'clock at the Rooms of the Christian Association, No. 23 Fifth street.

Committed.—Alderman Lindsay yesterday committed Henry Hovert to the county jail for a hearing on a charge of fraud, preferred against him by C. B. Taylor.

Work Commenced.—The work of laying the Nicolson pavement on Market street has been commenced. A large force of men is engaged and the work will be pushed forward rapidly.

Our Public Schools.—The attendance at our Public Schools is unprecedentedly large at the present term, and the prospects for a successful and prosperous term were never more flattering.

Nearly Completed.—The new North avenue M. E. Church in Allegheny will be ready for occupancy about the first of November. When completed it will be one of the finest church edifices in the vicinity.

Maj. W. B Stokes, as gallant an officer as ever stood beside a gun, and onewho has an enviable record, advertises in another column calling a meeting of the old members of Knap's battery, to form an auxiliary to the Grant Hussars.

Rearranging.—Chief Engineer Crow had a force of men engaged in rearranging the Allegheny Fire Alarm yesterday. It seems that the shade trees on some of the thoroughfares interfered with the wire, and prevented the perfect working of the alarm, which necessitated the change.

Grant and Colfax.—A meeting of the Grant and Colfax Club of the Sixth ward, Allegheny, will be held this (Tuesday) evening, September 8th, at 7½ o'clock, at the office of the Salt Works, corner Beaver avenue and Juniata street. A full attendance is requested. By order of the President.

Alleged Assault.—Patrick Connor made information, on Saturday, before Alderman McMasters, against James Bains for assault and battery. Patrick states that he was in the employ of Bains at Hulton Station, and that on Saturday evening they got into a difficulty, when Bains beat and abused him. A warrant was issued.

Pleasant Valley Passenger Railway.—The Directors of the Pleasant Valley Railway expect to have the road in operation the latter part of this or the first of next week. The road is completed, ready for the cars, and the builders of them are pushing the work forward as rapidly as possible. We understand that the fare to be charged has not been decided upon as yet, but this matter can easily be arranged before the opening.

The Temperance Movement.—The temperance men are actively engaged in the canvass for their candidate for County Commissioner, Isaac Charles, Esq. Some of them are quite confident of success, while others, not quite so sanguine, concede that the election will go against them. Their idea, however, is to poll as strong a vote as possible, even though they may be beaten, and for this purpose all their energies are bent to the work. Nothing like trying.

Fires in Allegheny During the Month.—Mr. James E. Crow, the efficient Chief Engineer of the Allegheny Fire Department, informs us that during the month of August there were five alarms struck at the Central Office. The largest fire was Semple's dry goods house. The total loss, with the exception of that sustained by Mr. Semple, would not exceed $800. There were no false alarms struck and the apparatus, throughout the month, has given perfect satisfaction.

About a Ring.—Sophia Bosch made information before Justice Barker, of South Pittsburgh, against Eliza Magle for larceny. Sophia states that on the twenty-ninth of August her house, situated on Mount Washington, was entered and a gold ring valued at five dollars carried off. As the ring was not her own she feels the more aggravated about its loss. From information received she verily believes that Eliza Magle was the person who carried it off, and accordingly a warrant was issued.

Allegheny Street Improvements.—The following is the record of the streets graded and paved in Allegheny during the month of August. There are a number of others under contract, all of which are rapidly approaching completion:

Name.	Length in feet.	Cost.
Washington avenue	19,063	$15,559 19
Union avenue	892	6,886 93
Balkan street	456	2,097 49
Total	20,411	$24,543 61

Of this number the first is in the sixth, the second in the third, and the last in the first wards.

Identified.—We noticed yesterday that two men had been arrested by the Allegheny police at an early hour on Sunday morning, having in their possession two coats which were supposed to have been stolen. The men were discharged but the coats were retained. Last evening two gentlemen called at the Mayor's office and identified the articles as their property which had been stolen from them on Saturday evening. They declined to prosecute the case, preferring to let the matter drop with the recovery of the property.

Alleged Larceny.—Arthur Murphy made information before the Mayor yesterday, against Charles Ludwig, charging him with the larceny of $145. Murphy states that Ludwig, in a stupidly intoxicated condition, came into the saloon where he boards and laid round for a few hours, and departed, the money mysteriously departing about the same time. It was afterwards ascertained that Ludwig had purchased a ticket, and was making preparations to depart on the 2 A. M., train, this morning. A warrant was issued and an officer dispatched to watch the train at the Union Depot.

Row in a Beer Saloon.—Charles Anderson, a colored man, alleges that while he was in a beer saloon on Lacock street, Alleghen, Saturday evening, three men named respectively Thomas Hanna, Benjamin Bone and James Cornelius, came in and without provocation attacked and beat him in a shameful manner. He states that he was hit on the head with a handy-billy, struck in the face and side, and finally kicked out into the street. The accused were arrested, and after a hearing before Alderman Bailee, Bone and Cornelius were discharged and Hanna held for a further hearing to-day.

Strange Case.—In last Saturday's GAZETTE we noted the fact that S. F. Mevey, livery stable keeper, had prosecuted, before Alderman McMaster, a well known citizen, Mr. David Elkin, for horse stealing. We have since been called upon by Mr. Elkin, who has exhibited to us a receip "in full" for horse and buggy hired by him from Mr. Mevay, and he represents that he has been unjustly maligned. As Mr. Elkin represents the case, we are inclined to believe that he is correct in his statement of the matter, and we are satisfied that upon a full hearing of the case Mr. E. will be entirely exculpated from any guilty design.

A Disgusting Spectacle.

We noticed yesterday a man apparently in the prime of life lying on the pavement on Penn street, near the corner of St. Clair. The man was so much under the influence of liquor as to be utterly insensible, and laid there in full view of all the passers by from about ten o'clock in the morning until after three in the afternoon. Notwithstanding his exposed position and the disgusting spectacle presented, no attention was paid to the matter by the police, who either failed to pass that way or would not attend to their duties in taking him away.

THE COURTS.

U. S. District Court—Judge M'Candless.

On the opening of the Court yesterday the case of the United States vs. twenty barrels of whisky, owned by Lang, Messman & Co., of Philadelphia, was resumed and concluded. The jury found a verdict for the United States. A motion for a new trial was filed by respondent's attorney.

The next case taken up was that of Wm. H. Friar, indicted for embezzling a letter containing $306 from the United States mail, on the 7th of May last. Defendant was driver of the mail coach, running between Milroy, Mifflin county, and Bellefonte, Center county, and on the day mentioned the mail bag containing a package of registered letters was placed in his possession. The letter alleged to have been stolen was addressed by Mr. Alexander, of Milroy, to John P. Haines, Cashier of the First National Bank of Bellefonte. District Attorney Garnahan appeared for the prosecution, and Hon. P. C. Shannon for the defense. The case is still on trial.

In the bankruptcy branch of the Court, a final discharge was granted and certificate awarded to Stillman Parker, of Cambria county.

Petitions for discharge were filed by Jas. B. Townsend, Susquehanna county; Philip Wilson, Allegheny City; David Grove, J. & B. L. Silkknitter, and Andrew Beer, of Huntingdon county; Stephen A. Gibson and Jacob Kinsel, Blair county; Annanigs Durst, Mercer county; Abram Young, Bradford county; John S. Cordner, Luzerne county.

A petition for adjudication was filed by Marquis D. F. Hines, of Bradford county.

Court of Quarter Sessions.

The September Term of the Court of Quarter Sessions commenced on Monday, at ten o'clock, Judges Sterrett and Mellon on the bench.

The Traverse Jury list was first called, there appearing to be a fair attendence.

Of Grand Jurors summoned the following answered and were sworn:

Charles Atwell, Sewickley; James M. Burns, city; J. D. Collingwood, city; Wm. Caldwell, Elizabeth; J. B. Crawford, city; Robert Dickson, city; Joseph H. Elton, Allegheny; B. Fahnestock, city; James Gordon, Allegheny; J. A. Graff, city; John P. Heisel, East Birmingham; John Holmes, city; R. H. Kerr, McClure; G. M. Morrison, Tarentum; John McDevitt, Oakland; W. D. McCallum, Allegheny; Henry Rowan, Sewickley; John Sill, Versailles; John Wilson, city; John Gamble.

Mr. Joseph Dilworth was designated as foreman.

Judge Sterrett delivered the usual charge, instructing the jury as to the nature of their duties, and also calling their attention to some special matters, the increase of crime through intemperance and the improper settlement of cases by magistrates—the latter a great and growing evil. He said that on presentment by the Grand Jury of any such cases of settlement, the Court would direct bills to be prepared so that they might be investigated. His Honor spoke of the magnitude of the liquor traffic as evidenced in the large sum—nearly $50,000—paid into the County Treasury by dealers, for Work House purposes, for the first eight months of the present year. The law requires parties obtaining license to pay into the County Treasury the same amount they are required to pay into the State Treasury, and thus the rather astonishing fact appeared that for the eight mohths of the present year, ending September 1st, nearly $100,000 have been paid in Allegheny County for the privilege of dealing in intoxicating liquors. Some idea might be formed from this of the real extent of the traffic, and of the amount of misery, suffering and crime entailed upon the community through intemperance.

Register Gray presented a number of administration and guardian accounts, which were confirmed nisi.

Constables of the various districts were called upon for their returns of persons ongaged in the liquor trade, &c.

The Court then adjourned until to-day at 10 A. M.

Trial List.

By direction of the Court the District Attorney will hereafter make out lists of cases to be tried in the Court of Quarter Sessions, and the lists will be published in the official county papers (Gazette, Dispatch and Freedom's Friend) two or three day's before trial.

Tuesday, September 8th, will be occupied in hearing surety cases, and prosecutors and defendants are required to be in attendance and remain until their cases are disposed of.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—A crowded audience greeted Edwin Booth at the Opera House last evening on the occasion of his appearance in the character of Hamlet, in the representation of which he fully sustained the high reputation he enjoys on the American stage. His present engagement promises to be quite as successful as the one of last season, and we are pleased to note this evidence of appreciation by our citizens of true merit. Mr, Booth appears this evening as Brutus in "the Fall of Tarquin."

MASONIC HALL.—The great conjurer, Logrenia, commenced a series of entertainments at Masonic Hall last evening. The initial performance was witnessed by a large and select audience, who seemed highly pleased with the performance throughout. Since his last appearance in this city, the conjurer has added many new attractions to his extensive reportoire, which is now one of the most complete in the country. In addition to the performances in magic and those of the birds and animals, one hundred presents are given away nightly, which should, of itself, be a sufficient attraction. Our readers who wish to spend a pleasant evening should by all means visit Masonic Hall.

Republican Meeting in Sharpsburg.

The Republican rally in Sharpsburg on Saturday evening was one of the largest and most enthusiastic political gatherings ever convened in that Borough. Very able addresses were delivered by Thos. Howard, Esq., and Hon. James L. Graham, which were listened to very attentively by the audience.

The Sharpsburg martial band enlivened the occasion with several patriotic pieces. The Sharpsburg Glee Club, under the direction of Jos. G. Henry, were present and sang several pieces, which were warmly applauded by the audience.

The Sharpsburg Grant and Colfax Club completed their organization by the appointment of Henry E. Camp as President, J. Murtzheimer and Wm. Williams, Jr., Vice Presidents, J. J. Saint and Max Livingston Secretaries and the usual committees.

"That Little Bill" Again.

A young man from the country arrived in our town yesterday afternoon, and was soon after his arrival initiated into the mysteries of an operation which, for want of a more appropriate title, may fittingly be styled "the little bill" game. The young man, whose name we failed to learn, was on his way from Latrobe to visit his mother-in-law in Massillon, Ohio, and came to the city in the train which arrives here at half-past one o'clock in the afternoon. After looking round for a short time he purchased a ticket for Massillon, and seated himself in the train which was to bear him to his destination. He had not been seated long before a gentlemanly, well-dressed man came into the car and ensconced himself directly in the seat in front. Pretty soon the stranger politely accosted the young man and inquired where he was going. Being answered, he replied that he was also going to the same place, and would be happy to have company. Quite a conversation here ensued in which the stranger said he knew his acquaintances' brother-in-law, was intimately acquainted with him and would be pleased to do a favor to any of his kindred. At length he proposed that his young acquaintance should accompany him to get his baggage a few squares from the Depot, and then they could secure seats together for the journey. This arrangement being satisfactory the twain started up Washington street, but had not proceeded very far when they were accosted by stranger No. 2, who indignantly and insolently demanded payment of "that little bill. Stranger No. 1 was very much shocked at being thus rudely treated before another gentleman, but nevertheless produced a check for $1,500 and $1,000 greenback, which he offered in payment. Stranger No. 2 had no change, but was inexorable in his demands that the amount should be handed over immediately. This was impossible until finally an arrangement was effected by which the young man exchanged all the money in his possession, amounting to $385 for the $1,500 check, and his new found friend was thus relieved of his embarrassment.

The debtor now said he had a few words to say to the insolent creditor, and directed his companion to walk slowly on and he would overtake him when he gave the insolent boor a piece of his mind. The young man walked on, and when his back was turned his new acquaintance walked off and has not overtaken him yet. After some time had elapsed, his suspicions being aroused, the generous youth made inquiries about the check and discovered it to be bogus and himself swindled. Turning from the depot he went to the Mayor's office and made known the circumstances of the case, exhibiting the check which is drawn on the Fifth National Bank of Chicago, in favor of A. K. Howard, Esq. The police were furnished with a description of the sharpers but it is doubtful if they can be arrested.

Verdant says that he cares not so much for his money as for the manner in which he was "fooled." He is about twenty-two years of age and says that he never reads the paper, but depends on his own observation for his knowledge of things and men. It is quite likely, however, that his mode of living in this respect will be changed somewhat in the future.

Misplaced Confidence.

Eliza Evans, of East Birmingham, if her statement be true, is the victim of misplaced confidence. She had a friend, according to her story, in whom she confided very much. On the 19th of August last, these two friends were in each others' society, when they concluded that a little ale would help on the flow of friendly feeling between them; accordingly the ale was brought and both partook freely. The beverage had a soporific influence upon Mrs. Evans, and she lay down to sleep. Upon awakening some hours afterwards, she discovered that a ten dollar greenback, which she had concealed in the bosom of her dress, was gone. She immediately accused her particular friend, Mrs. Richards by name, with a breach of faith, and had her arrested and held for a hearing by Justice Barker, on a charge of larceny.

Second Ward Grant and Colfax Club—Election of Officers in Military Organization.

At a meeting of the Second ward Grant and Colfax Club of Pittsburgh, held at their headquarters last evening, a military organization was effected by the election of the following officers: Captain, W. B. Cook; First Lieutenant, Thos. H. Phelps; Second Lieutenant, John J. Steen; Sergeants, J. F. Hunter, J. Crosby Gray, Chas. M. Gormly, Wm. Howe, Thos. H. Thorn, John A. Wilson, Matthew Munn, James Brooks.

At the close of the election addresses were delivered by Thomas Steel, Esq., Colonel Young, and Captain W. B. Cook, after which the meeting adjourned with enthusiastic cheers for Grant and Colfax.

Felonious Assault.

William Pentz appeared before Alderman McMasters yesterday, and lodged an information against Thomas Daggett and James Parker, for felonious assault and battery and robbery. The prosecutor alleges that in company with the defendants, on Saturday evening, he started on a tour of inspection through the city. Stopping in several places to assuage their thirst, the defendants, according to his allegation, drank too much, and getting in a fighting humor, William alleges that they knocked him down, and after severely beating him, carried off his silver watch valued at twenty dollars and a pen knife valued at seventy-five cents. The accused were arrested and in default of $500 bail each, were committed to jail for a further hearing.

A Settlement.

Fred Eichenhart and Frank Anderson got into a little difficulty on the Monongahela wharf yesterday, which they concluded to settle by force of arms, or rather fists. While they were in the midst of the settlement Lieut. Portser, with a squad of police, came along that way and took them both into custody. When brought before the Mayor that official imposed a fine of five dollars on each for disorderly conduct, which they paid and were discharged. Subsequently Eichenhart finding that he had got the worst of the bargain made information before His Honor against Anderson for assault and battery. Anderson was arrested on this charge and held to bail for a hearing this morning.

Expensive Amusement.

John W. Shuck, who was arrested and taken before Alderman Herron, of the Twelfth ward, Saturday evening, for throwing stones at the Central Tanner Club while returning from a meeting at Lawrenceville, had a hearing yesterday and was held to bail in the sum of two thousand dollars for his appearance at Court to answer a charge of aggravated assault and battery, in default of which he was committed to jail. Shuck, who is doubtless a cowardly villian, as none other would be guilty of throwing stones at a crowd in the dark, may have enjoyed the sport for the time being, but he will probably find it rather expensive amusement before the case is ended.

Letters commending the Harris's great preparations of "cramp cure" and "Summer Cordial" flow in from all directions, and orders for it come from all sections. These preparations are destined to outlive and out rank every thing else in the same line, as they stand upon merit alone.

Those favorable to the formation of a Grant Hussar Club will meet to-night at McCallum's Carpet Store, Fifth street.

NEW BRIGHTON, PA.

Annual Conference of the Methodist Church

NEW BRIGHTON, PA., Sept. 5, 1868.

Session opened in the usual way. Services by Rev. J. H. Hull. Roll called and minutes read.

A paper was read by Gen. F. H. Collier in behalf of a number of members of the Methodist Church in and about Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, favoring the removal of the Book Concern from Springfield, Ohio, to Pittsburgh. Referred to a special committee of five.

It being the order of the day, 1½ o'clock, Dr. Scott, editor of the Methodist Recorder, addressed the Conference on the interests of the Publishishing House. He favored its removal to some commercial center. He urged the Conference to contribute to its columns and increase its circulation.

The report of the College Committee, Rev. Geo. Brown, D. D., chairman, being the order of the day, 3 o'clock, was taken from the table and read again by the Doctor. After some remarks by Dr. Mahan, President of the College, he said the property is worth $200,000, and has an endowment of over $100,000, and all in good working condition. He said no other College in this country had done so well in so short a time—only four years.

The report of the Committee on Itenerancy and Orders was taken from the table, and acted upon seriatum, resulting as follows: Rev. E. R. McGregor, an Ordained Elder, was received into Conference. Rev. A. E. Luty was received and elected to Elder's orders. C. P. Goodrich was received into Conference.

In the evening at 7½ o'clock the Lord's Supper was administered to a large number of persons, and a blessed time of refreshing was enjoyed.

SABBATH, SEPTEMBER 6th, 1868.—Dr. Brown preached a very excellent dicourse on 1 Timothy, 1st chap. 15th verse.—"This is a faithful saying worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, &c.," after which Revs. A. E. Luty and J. W. Smart were ordained to the office of Elder.

At 3 P. M., the Conference Missionary meeting was held. The address was delivered by Rev. H. B. Knight. Dr. Collier did the soliciting, and a liberal contribution was received.

The New Brighton pulpits, except (Catholic and Episcopal) were all supplied by members of the Conference both morning and evening.

MONDAY, 8½ o'clock A. M., Sept. 7, 1868.—Session opened in the usual way, services conducted by Rev. D. L. K. Rine. Roll called and minutes of Saturday read, and also the doings of Sabbath.

Report of the Committee on Itinerancy and Orders, left unfinished on Saturday, was taken up and dispensed of, after some discussion on the subject of ministerial qualifications, most of the speakers taking high ground. Downy and Wm. Evans were received into the Itinerancy.

The Committee of Home Missions reported favorably on the condition and prospects of the several mission fields

The Committee on Obituaries reported as follows:

During the last year one of our number has been removed by death, our dearly loved brother Valentine Lucas. He was in the forty-sixth year of his age and had been a preacher of the Gospel for about twenty-four years. He was converted in his 19th year, under the ministry of the Rev. John Coil, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and had served an acceptable probation in that denomination when, by mutual agreement with his father, whom he largely influenced to a religious life, he, with him, united with the Methodist Protestant Church in the pastoral care of Dr. Lushley, of which his mother had been a devoted member from its organization. Brother Lucas was the subject of a pious mother's prayers from his childhood, and her faith was answered not only by his consecration to the sacred office, but by the comporting fact that three of her sons stood side by side as watchmen on the walls of Zion. Those aged parents who have given the Church the lives, talents and services of their children, are still alive and faithful to the truth, waiting for the Savour's invitation home.

In view of this sudden bereavement which has fallen on the Church by the death of Brother Lucas on the 19th of May, 1868, your committee beg leave to submit the following as a slight memorial of this Conference in honor of his name and services:

WHEREAS, In the wisdom of God, one of the strongest and most faithful laborers in our Church, our dearly beloved brother and fellow counsellor, the Rev. Valentine Lucas, has been called suddenly from endeared brotherhood in this Conference, therefore,

Resolved, 1. That we recognize in this afflicting dispensation of Providence, a warning call to duty in our work, devotion in our lives, and full consecration of our time, out talents and our all to the services of the Lord.

Resolved, 2. That we henceforth, as the most fitting tribute to the memory of our departed brother, imitate his example in firmness of Christian purpose, in attachment to the distinctive principles of the Methodist Church, in patience, in perseverance and humbleness of walk and conversation.

Resolved, 3. That our hope of meeting and greeting our missing friend and brother in the more immediate presence of Jesus Christ, when all our toils and tears are past—our assurance of immortal fellowship in heaven—shall sustain us in this present sorrow, and the more intensify the joy of re-union again and forever, when our appointments shall all be announced as walks with God in Paradise.

"Thus star after star declines,
Till all have passed away,
As morning high and higher strides,
To noon, or perfect day.
Nor sink those stars in empty night,
But lose themselves in heaven's own light."

Resolved, 4. That a copy of these resolutions be furnished the family and congregation of the deceased, to each of his brothers in the minstry, and to the Methodist Recorder and Pittsburgh papers.

At eleven o'clock the Conference adjourned, and the Pittsburgh Conference Preachers' Aid Society organized by electing J. Cowl, President.

The report of the Treasurer, Wm. Miller, was read. This society has a capital of $26,400. The interest only is used. It paid to superannual ministers and ministers' widows last year $2,300.

Adjourned at 12 m. with benediction.

About Again.

Our readers will remember that some time ago we gave an account of the scalping of Thomas Cahoon, a resident of Allegheny, by the Indians on the Plains. Mr. Cahoon was brought home by slow and careful stages, and contrary to all expectation after the weariness of travel was over, began to recover. Since then he has gradually gained strength, until at present he is able to walk around among his old companions and friends. Notwithstanding his severe experience he still prefers the far West as a field of labor and expects to return there as soon as his health is recuperated sufficient to endure the journey with safety.

Don't Fail to get It.—All persons seeking homes, or property by way of investment, will find the "Pittsburgh Real Estate Register" a valuable reference. It is a neatly arranged work, published by the enterprising real estate agents, Croft & Phillips, and will be read with interest by all interested in the purchase or sale of property. Persons wishing a copy of the "Register" can get one gratis by calling at their office, No. 139 Fourth avenue, or they will send it by mail, free, to any address. D&W.

The place to get White Lime, Calcined Plaster, Hydraulic Cement, is at Ecker & Caskey's, 107 First street.

The Right Side of the Question.

TO THE PUBLIC: An article appeared in yesterday's Gazette signed Carson & Bros., purporting to be a statement of facts in a recent transaction between themselves and Miss Agnes A. Watson, corner of Green street and Center avenue, whose affidavit was published in the Dispatch of Wednesday morning, 26th inst. It will be exceedingly difficult for a discriminating public to decide wherein their statements of the transaction of exchange differs materially from hers, for they admit, as she avers, taking the "Weed" machine and giving her an "Empire" therefor, subsequently exchanging that for a "Wilcox & Gibbs," finally refusing to take that back and give her "her Weed" machine, even though she offered them ten dollars, and without which, she testifies to telling them, "she should not be able to do her work." There is, however, a question of veracity between this most worthy woman, and the Carson Brothers, as to the authorship of her affidavit, she testifying that she made it herself "for the benefit of others, without Mr. Long's knowledge or solicitation," they assuming that "it was originated and arranged by him." Whether she is presumed to possess a better knowledge of her own actions and motives, than the Carson Brothers—whether her affidavit is entitled to more consideration than their insinuations—or what relevancy the question of authorship can have, are subjects we do not propose to discuss. This ingenious dodge to divert the public mind from the real facts will not work. Nor is there any controversy upon any subject at issue between the Carson Brothers and the agent of the Weed Company. He is very naturally grieved that they should compromise seemingly, for a moment, their excellent reputation as gentlemen, by making such an unfounded and ridiculous assertion. He mourneth also that they should feel compelled to estimate or measure their own standard of excellence and honor by his. He bears them no ill will, and would modestly aspire to be the peer of his worthy competitors in the grand "scrub race" for "fair dealing," which many seem to have attained, judging from their own public statements, but is fully aware that "a tree is best known by its fruits," and that a good name will always take care of itself.

A Policeman on the Stump.

MESSRS. EDITORS—As it may not be generally known to the citizens of Pittsburgh that we have some "refined" orators on our police force under Mayor Blackmore, I will endeavor to give your readers an abstract from a speech delivered by an officer on last Saturday evening, at a Democratic pole raising at the corner of Penn and Fifteenth (formerly Adams) street, in the Tenth (formerly part of the Fifth) ward. Now, I don't pretend to say this orator had been drinking, (for, of course, none of Mayor Blackmore's police indulge in that harmless amusement,) but the officer, in assisting to raise the pole and while working with some ropes, fell from the pole to the ground twice. After working for several hours the pole did'nt go up, and the crowd, which had assembled with the expectation of hearing some fine "spakin," had about concluded that they would be disappointed, when this valiant officer volunteered to address the "dimecrats" assembled, which he did. The officer commenced by saying: "Gentlemen, I would rather than twenty dollars that this pole had been put up to-night, I would by G—d, yes, by G—d, gentlemen; I am a good Democrat. I was discharged from the Allegheny Suspension Bridge because I voted the Democratic ticket, and by G—d I want the people to know it. (Slight applause.) Yes, and I have been told that I will be discharged off the police because I won't vote for Brush, but by G—d I will bet a dollar that I won't, for by G—d Blackmore will be elected. Some of you may take me for a fool, but by G—d I tell you I am no fool. (Slight applause.) Gentlemen I will put this pole up myself if you will wait till Monday evening. (A voice—"It must go up to-night.") Speaker—I tell you you can't put it up to-night; I'll bet you by G—d ten dollars you can't, but mind you I want to see this pole go up, yes I do, by G—d." The closing remarks of this polished and refined officer and orator are unfit for publication. The officer was in full uniform at the time he made this address. CITIZEN.

Most Bitters of the present day that are loudly puffed through the newspapers as having great curative properties are vile compounds and base impositions, containing no medicinal virtues whatever, and are really very poor whisky beverages, and, instead of acting as a stimulant and tonic, have a tendency to weaken the stomach by entirely destroying the coating. The public should therefore be very cautious and purchase none but Roback's Stomach Bitters, which have stood the test as a remedial agent for many years, and are really as their name indicates, a stomach bitters and not a beverage. They combine the properties of the best tonic and a stimulant—a laxative, an efficient and anti-bilious agent and the best stomachic known to the world, and when taken in conjunction with Roback's Blood Pills, are the safest and surest preventive against all bilious derangements, thoroughly regulating the whole system and giving tone to the digestive organs.

They are highly recommended as an invigorating tonic to mothers while nursing, increasing the flow of milk, and for convalescents, to restore the prostration which always follows long-continued sickness, they are unsurpassed. No household should consider themselves safe from the ordinary maladies without these invaluable medicines. They can be obtained of any druggist. TTSF

A Fashionable wedding took place in this neighborhood a few days ago and the bride, a very beautiful and gifted young lady, received as a wedding present one of Liebler's best trunks. The gift was acceptable especially as it came from the Premium Trunk factory, No. 104 Wood street, where all good trunks and valises come from.

As a regulator of the bowels and speedy annihilator of pain, Dr. Harris' Cramp Cure is unexcelled by anything yet produced in this country. The summer cordial for infants and children is equally efficacious in disease of the bowels, cholic, &c. All druggists sell these medicines.

New Treatment.—For chronic diseases of the eye, ear, head, throat, lungs, heart, stomach, liver, &c., at Dr. Aborn's Medical and Surgical Rooms, 134 Smithfield street, half a square from the Postoffice. No charge for consultation. tf

GENUINE
GLYCERINE TOILET SOAP,

MANUFACTURED BY

PETER SQUIRE, 277 Oxford street' London.

This Soap has been, by a peculiar process, freed from the excess of alkali almost invariably found even in the purest Soaps, and at the same time it is made to take up a large quantity of Glycerine (40 per cent). It is to this latter substance that it chiefly owes its soothing quality—softening the skin, preserving the complexion, preventing chapping and the unpleasant roughness experienced in cold weather. It is found most useful in alleviating the irritation produced by dryness of the skin. On account of its great purity it recommends itself to all persons that suffer from the use of common Soaps for delicate skins it is the only Soap that can be tolerated. It is particularly useful for cleansing diseased skins, where the irritation produced by ordinary Soaps causes so much inconvenience. It is the most agreeable Shaving Soap that can be used, leaving the skin soft and comfortable. The Soaps usually sold as Glycerine Soaps contain little or no Glycerine. It is only necessary to apply the tongue to the surface and the genuine will be distinguished by the sweet taste. Agent,

CAUTION!

TO BUYERS OF TEA.

C. A. BOUCHER,

114 SMITHFIELD ST.,

OPPOSITE POST OFFICE.

Original Red Front Tea Warehouse

The undersigned would respectfully call the attention of buyers of Teas to the inconsistent and false statements made by the

BOGUS TEA COMPANIES

Of the presnt day. Men with scarcely sufficient knowledge of Tea to distinguish Black from Green are advertising themselves as the Great Tea Companies of the country, and claim to sell the best Teas at from 80c. to $1.25 per lb. More apparent falsehood and misrepresentation was never published.

To prove the outrageous nature of such claims it is only necessary to refer to published reports of daily Auction Sales of Teas, by the cargo, in the great market of New York, at which fine Teas cannot be bought for less than from $1.50 to $1.90 per lb.

Another active means of fraud in Tea Stores is in giving SHORT WEIGHT instead of 16 OUNCES FOR A POUND.

In this way many buyers are misled into the belief that they are purchasing goods at a reasonable cost, when, in fact, they are, by these means, swindled into paying excessive prices.

The undersigned will give a

REWARD OF $50,

for each and every case of short weight of tea, or other goods, as weighed on his tested scales.
